SENATOR MORGAN URGES NICARAGUA CANAL ROUTE

By Associated Press.

Washington, April 17.—For more than four hours today [illegible] Morgan (Ala.), chairman of the [illegible] commission, addressed [illegible] the subject of the Nicaraguan canal. He devoted the greater part of his speech to a consideration of the desirability and practicability of the two principal routes, Nicaragua and Panama. He strenuously favored the former, maintaining that in every possible respect it had many advantages over the Panama route.

"The subject," said Mr. Morgan, "presents itself to my mind with conclusive force in the form stated in the six propositions I will now state:

"1. We have reached the point where investigation is complete by observation, experience, scientific research and thought and these means of knowledge are as conclusive of the facts as we could hope to make them in another century of delay.

"2. The question now to be decided is the choice of either of two routes for a canal: whether it shall be located at Panama or through the valley of the San Juan river in Nicaragua and Costa Rica.

"3. The controlling factor in making this selection is the assurance of success in constructing a canal that will be permanently useful for commerce and for the needs of the government and policies and for the benefit of the people of the United States.

"4. A sum of money necessary for expenditure in the work of constructing such a canal, to accomplish such ends, cannot be reasonably compared with the real value of the results to the people and the government of the United States and the choice of either route, with safe, intelligent and sincere regard to its permanent usefulness and advantage should not be controlled or affected by a difference in the present cost of construction I will say within a limit of even $50,000,000.

"5. The assured certainty of success in the construction of a permanent canal is, of necessity, the basic or foundation fact upon which congress [illegible] in the selection of the canal [illegible] considered as a simple proposition [illegible] civil engineering there is no doubt—not even a shadow of a doubt—as to any fact touching the practicability of a ship canal from Greytown to Brito, in and along the San Juan river and across Lake Nicaragua. It is certain, beyond a reasonable doubt, that its real cost is as nearly within the limits of exact estimates as any great public work that was ever undertaken. It is upon this ascertained and settled basis of certainty that I rest my judgment.

"6. If the dam at Bohio, on the Panama route, should fail from any cause the only hope of a canal across that isthmus would perish, never to be restored. All engineers admit this fact. The failure of a dam at Conchuda or Boca San Carlos or at Ochoa or at Tamborgrunde or at any other site on the San Juan river would only mean the loss of that structure, to be replaced on a better location if a lake level canal is preferred.

"These chances are at least ten to one, and if the risk is estimated at only tenfold the cost of the dam at Bohio, it would deter the boldest gambler in future from risking the possible loss of more than $80,000,000 when if he was successful, his profits could not exceed $6,000,000. But the loss of a dam at Bohio could not be less than $144,233,358 clear loss to the United States in cash to say nothing of the lives wasted in the work, the incalculable loss to our commerce and the national shame and despair that our people would suffer."

Discussing the proposed routes of the canal and the decision of the Walker commission, Mr. Morgan said:

"No member of either of the three commissions ever expressed a doubt or apprehension as to the certainty of the successful completion of a canal on the Nicaraguan route on either of five plans that have been adopted, surveyed and located by the greatest engineers in America.

"The feasibility, practicability, usefulness, permanence and commercial value of the Panama canal to the United States are all clouded with many doubts.

"One duty that the government owes to humanity—which rises above all other considerations—in the choice of these routes, is the care of the health and lives of men whose labor is the real power that must open this great waterway.

"It is a political situation of great moment and it is a cause of sincere gratification to the three republics concerned in this canal that their interests are unified and not discordant as the interests of the state of Panama are toward those of Colombia."

Referring to the position taken by the advocates of the Panama route, Mr. Morgan said:

"No more reckless an attitude was ever taken with reference to an economic question or with less benevolence, reason or justice, to support."

Mr. Morgan maintained that the isthmian canal commission had no authority to accept an offer of the Panama Canal company and that the sole duty of the president was to determine the route he would recommend to congress.

At the conclusion of Mr. Morgan's speech, which consumed more than four hours, Mr. Platt (Conn.) called up the Chinese exclusion bill passed by the house. He then moved that all of the enacting clause of the bill be stricken out and that the measure, as passed by the senate yesterday, be substituted for it. The motion was carried without comment. This action on the part of the senate was necessary in order to facilitate consideration of the measure in the house.

The senate at 4:50 went into executive session and at 4:55 adjourned.

IMPORTANT CIRCULAR TO MT. ROSA HOLDERS

Woods Investment Company Issues a Statement Answering Allegations of the Complaint of Minority Holders April 2—The Replies in Abstract.

No answer has yet been filed in the district court to the complaint of the minority stockholders of the Mt. Rosa company, because neither the Mt. Rosa nor the Woods Investment company has been served with a summons. But the latter has just issued a lengthy circular to Mt. Rosa stockholders, which answers the various allegations made in the complaint, published in these columns April 2.

In brief, the replies are as follows:

First—The Johnson contract very materially enhanced the value of the Mt. Rosa company, it saved the company thousands of dollars, and its wisdom has never been disputed.

Second—None of the defendants or any one acting for them received any right, title or interest in, or conveyance of, any of the company's ground on account of the Johnson contract.

Third—That the settlements involving the Providence and Daphne lodes was fair to the company, disposing of two serious suits which menaced the company, and extricating the company from many complications and difficulties.

Fourth—The Handy Andy and Newman lodes were formerly owned in part by the Mt. Rosa and in part by other persons, the latter interests having been recently acquired by the company. The title was secure and their acquisition seemed very important.

Fifth—The acquisition by the company of $25,000 worth of stock in the United Mines Transportation company has resulted in a service to the Mt. Rosa worth fully the price paid for the stock which, now, in addition, is to be exchanged, dollar for dollar, in a new dividend-paying company.

Sixth—None of the defendants have ever acquired any interests in blocks 4 and 5, in the city of Victor, by reason of or under pretense of payment of the expense of the construction of any tunnel through that ground.

Seventh—The Mt. Rosa company, in common with many other Cripple Creek mining companies, purchased first mortgage bonds of the Colorado Springs and Cripple Creek District railway. This company purchased $5,000 worth. The bonds are now paying interest, and they are generally considered a good investment.

Eighth—The lease to the Gold Coin company has been in operation for two years on fair and just terms. The amount of $10,000 has been expended in development work which the Mt. Rosa company itself could not have secured for many times that amount.

Ninth—The re-incorporation objected to is to be undertaken to remedy certain defects in the present incorporation and to secure the increase of its capital stock, and the protection of the federal courts.

Tenth—No ore whatever has been extracted or removed from the Mt. Rosa property by any of the defendants under the Gold Coin lease or otherwise.

Eleventh—The plaintiffs asked for an order restraining the defendants from moving the offices from Victor to Colorado Springs. The defendants reply that the books, papers and offices have always been maintained in Colorado Springs.

Twelfth—No money, property or rights of any kind belonging to the Mt. Rosa company have been unlawfully used by any of the defendants.

The replies are detailed, but their substance is given. In addition Mr. F. M. Woods has stated that neither the Gold Coin mine, or others in which his company is interested, is involved in the suit.

The circular concludes as follows:

"The Mt. Rosa company has been controlled by us for some years, and our large holdings in the company, if no other reason, would induce the highest regard for its interests. Everything possible has been done by the management to develop the company's property and increase its value. All of the transactions of the company are open to the fullest investigation by any stockholder.

"We are willing to stand upon our record for fair treatment of the stockholders of the many companies we have organized and managed in the Cripple Creek district during the past nine years and the results attained for them."

HOUSE DEMOCRATS HELD A CUBAN RECIPROCITY CAUCUS

By Associated Press.

Washington, April 17.—The Democrats of the house, at a caucus held tonight, by a very large majority, estimated at three to one, adopted the following resolutions introduced by Mr. Swanson of Virginia:

"Resolved, that we favor the removal of differential on refined sugar, both from Cuba and elsewhere, and believe that such amendments are properly in order and we insist that it is the duty of all Democrats to vote whenever opportunity is given to have these amendments added to the pending bill providing for Cuban reciprocity. We are opposed to the adoption of the previous question when the bill is reported to the house unless it shall have been properly amended in committee of the whole, as this will prevent an opportunity for just and proper amendment with recorded votes on the same.

"Resolved, Further, that the action of this caucus is binding."

The caucus was rather turbulent during the early part of the evening but toward the close the differences disappeared and it broke up amid evidences of harmony and good feeling.

The action taken tonight binds the Democrats to vote to abolish the differential on refined sugar and against the previous question.

Ninety-four Democrats attended. Mr. Underwood, of Alabama, who got the floor immediately after the meeting was called to order, threw a bombshell into the caucus by announcing that overtures had come to him from the Republican side by which it was to be agreed that the Republican leaders would abandon the Crumpacker resolution to investigate the southern election laws if the delegation from the states concerned (North Carolina, South Carolina, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Virginia) would aid the majority to close debate and would vote against the appeals which will be taken from the decisions of the chair when the motions to open up the bill to general amendment are offered. Mr. Underwood declined to give the name of the Republican from whom these assurances regarding the abandonment of the Crumpacker resolution came, and although arguing that it was to the interests of the states involved to accept the offer made, he stated that the agreement had not been positively accepted and for himself he agreed to abide by the decision of the caucus.

The Democratic vote on Wednesday to close debate came principally from the states mentioned above.

To the Swanson resolution Mr. Williams, of Mississippi, offered a substitute to bind the Democrats to vote for all propositions involving a reduction of the tariff, but to leave every Democrat free to vote his convictions upon questions of parliamentary procedure. Mr. Williams maintained that under the circumstances it would be to the interest of the Democrats in the states whose representations were threatened by the Crumpacker resolution to abide by the understanding reached. During the heated debate that followed, Mr. Burleson, of Texas asked Mr. Underwood if the Republican leaders had not silenced Mr. Crumpacker and his friends on the Republican side who were opposed to the reciprocity bill by agreeing to report the Crumpacker resolution and if they were not now trying to create a defection on the Democratic side by offering to kill the resolution. Mr. Bankhead, of Alabama, sided with Mr. Underwood, and Mr. Williams and Mr. Cooper of Texas and Mr. Brazeale of Louisiana, with Mr. Swanson. The latter two strongly urged their colleagues to vote to abolish the differential on refined sugar.

In the course of the debate which followed, it developed that the Williams resolution was interpreted to constitute an instruction to the Democrats to vote for the bill when the final vote was reached. Both Mr. Bankhead of Alabama and Mr. Williams of Mississippi confirmed the terms of the proposition made to Mr. Underwood by the Republicans. Mr. Williams argued that it should be accepted, not so much because of the threat of reducing southern representation as to prevent the opening of the race question in the south.

Mr. De Armond of Missouri and J. R. Williams of Illinois supported the Swanson resolution in forcible speeches.

By a very large majority the Swanson resolution was adopted and also a resolution making action of the caucus binding upon all Democrats of the house.

TO FORCE FINAL VOTE ON BILL TODAY

By Associated Press.

Washington, April 17.—General debate on the Cuban reciprocity bill will close tomorrow at 3 o'clock and it is the intention of the house leaders, if possible, to force a final vote on the passage of the bill before adjournment tomorrow night. All day long the leaders were counting noses and preparing for the final struggle tomorrow.

The Democrats are badly split on the bill. The opponents of the bill occupied most of the time of the debate today, the feature being a vigorous speech by Mr. Cushman (Rep., Wash.) against the measure. Mr. Cushman arraigned the committee on rules and the house leaders in a breezy and at times sensational fashion. A portion of his criticism was in a semi-humorous vein, but some of it was decidedly caustic. Mr. De Armond, one of the leading Democrats of the house, delivered a forcible speech in favor of tariff reduction on trust articles. The other speakers were Messrs. Pierce (Tenn.), Douglass (N. Y.) and Lacey (Iowa) for the bill, and Messrs. Jenkins (Wis.), Gaines (W. Va.), Warner (Ill.), Gardiner (Mich.), Jones (Wash.) and Loud (Calif.) against it.

Mr. Loud declared that directly and indirectly Cuba already had cost the United States one thousand million dollars.

Mr. Cushman declared that a majority of the Republicans of the house were today opposed, although a majority were undoubtedly today convinced that it would be better for them to be in favor of it. He intimated that the speaker's position was responsible for the change of attitude of many of the members, and followed this statement with a very outspoken and almost sensational criticism of the power exercised by the speaker. He declared that he was prepared to make the statement that no bill, private or public, could be considered without the speaker's approval. "If there is any one here who desires to deny that statement," said he, pausing, "I am here to hear valuable testimony for his benefit. Who is the speaker who sets up his immaculate judgment against that of members?" he asked, and then proceeded to describe amid the applause of the Democrats and many Republicans, how a bill, after its introduction, was finally worked through committee to the calendar. "It is called the calendar," said he, "although it should be called the cemetery, because it is strewn with the whitened bones of legislative hopes."

On the calendar the bill remained until the speaker was ready to have it considered. He disclaimed any intention of reflecting upon the speaker personally or publicly, as he had the highest regard for him. It was the result of the members themselves, he said, that they were powerless before the machine that controlled the house.

"We adopted a set of rules," said he, "which are an absolute disgrace to this house. They are un-Republican, un-Democratic and un-American. (Democratic applause.) They are rotten at both ends. They rob the individual member of his rights and place upon some members duties which they have no chance to fulfill." (Renewed applause and laughter.)

Amid general laughter he quoted Cassius' speech to his conspirators, describing Caesar as a colossus and blaming the conspirators themselves for being underlings, and said it was a waste of money for the people of Washington to pay to see the Liliputians, who are giving an exhibition at a local theater, when they could come up to the house gallery and witness the exhibition on the floor of the house. He announced that he proposed to devote his attention to putting some spokes in the wheel of the machine which its designers had not ordered, and promised later to deliver a speech on the rules "so hot that it would have to be printed on asbestos paper."

Then, turning to the sponsors for the bill, he paid his respects to Mr. Payne, Mr. Dalzell, and Mr. Grosvenor, ridiculing each in turn by contrasting the reciprocity of Harrison with that of Dalzell; that of McKinley with that of Grosvenor, and that of Blaine with that of Zoreno F. Payne. He was particularly severe on General Grosvenor. He told how he made a successful campaign with the aid of a copy of the statesman's speech, from which, when he was cornered, he was always able to prove or disprove anything.

Mr. Cushman concluded his speech with an eloquent peroration, which drew a storm of applause from his Republican colleagues, and after he had concluded, members flocked around to congratulate him. The confusion was so great that it was several minutes before order could be restored.

Mr. Jones (Wash.), who opposed the bill, admitted that public sentiment was behind it, but declared that when the real condition was understood there would be a reversion of sentiment.

Mr. Loud (Calif.) declared that he was a Republican and followed the leaders where he could many times against his better judgment, but from this proposition he said he must dissent. He insisted that there was no obligation on the United States to help Cuba at the expense of our own people. Cuba already had cost us, one way and another, a thousand million dollars.

At 5 o'clock the house adjourned.

It is an important subject and is being earnestly debated. Over 600 ministers are attending the meeting here.

Difficult Work on the Nicaragua Route.

I much doubt if I exaggerate the difficulties which have to be encountered during the first 20 miles or so after leaving Greytown when I say that, excepting the heavy work in the Culebra section and the construction of the Bohio dam, the entire Panama canal might be built more easily and at no greater cost. For many miles of the distance mentioned, the Nicaragua canal line passes through a flat and swampy county where the rainfall is abnormally heavy and practically continuous. The swamps communicate freely with the rivers in the neighborhood, the flood levels frequently rise many feet above the level of the Caribbean sea, and embankments will be required for long distances, not only to maintain the canal from within but also to exclude flood waters. The soil, moreover, is often so unsuitable even for the roughest of embankments that clay for their construction will have to be brought from the adjacent hills. At least two rivers will have to be diverted, and four waterways are planned, each necessarily at a considerable distance from the canal line, for the purpose of protecting it from floods.—(John Geo. Leigh in The Engineering Magazine for April.

WASHINGTON TOPICS OF WESTERN INTEREST

WASHINGTON TOPICS.

Special to the Gazette.

Washington, April 17.—Representative Shafroth today from the committee on public lands filed the favorable report recently authorized on Representative Bell's bill granting Colorado Springs 2,181 acres of land at $1.25 per acre for purposes of water storage and supply of its water works. The bill is on the calendar of both senate and house, and having been favorably reported from both committees may be passed at any time when such measures are in order.

Members of the house interested in securing public buildings are awaiting anxiously action by the public building committee which is expected daily to report the omnibus building bill. It is believed the bill will include Colorado items of $150,000 for Colorado Springs, $25,000 for Leadville and $300,000 for Denver.

The senate committee on appropriations has accepted an amendment to the sundry civil bill increasing the amount allowed in the house bill for the use of the geological survey in determining water resources of the United States from $100,000 to $200,000. The increased amount is recommended on account of the probable passage of a general irrigation law which will make necessary extensive surveys and investigations of water resources of public lands.

BOERS MAY ABANDON SOUTH AFRICA

By Associated Press.

London, April 18.—The Daily Mail claims to have authority to announce that bases of peace have been practically agreed upon at Pretoria, but says that some little time will elapse before the details of the plan can be perfected.

The paper adds that upon finding that the British government refused on Wednesday to modify its terms with regard to amnesty, banishment and a responsible government, the Boers' delegates met again on Thursday.

The British decision, practically leaving them the alternative of accepting the British terms or breaking up the conference, was then communicated to them and the delegates proved more reasonable.

When Lord Milner, the British high commissioner in South Africa, promised the delegates one or two seats on the executive council, subject to the approval of the government and pending the restoration of a responsible government, they practically agreed to accept the British terms.

Some details, continues the Daily Mail, which are likely to create difficulty, still remain to be settled.

Lord Milner has summoned from Johannesburg an Australian expert who is to assist in estimating the cost of rebuilding and restocking the Boer farms. The delegates, concludes the paper, have so far acted quite independently of their representatives in Holland.

Dr. Hans Sauer, a loyalist Afrikander speaker at Bradford tonight, was not optimistic concerning the peace negotiations. He said he thought it quite probable that the Boers would ask Great Britain for £50,000,000 or £90,000,000 and agree in return to clear out of South Africa altogether.

NEW BANK DIRECTORS HAD FIRST MEETING

The board of directors of the First National bank of Colorado City held its first meeting last night in Colorado City at the home of Mr. J. P. [illegible]. Several important matters of business incident to the preparation for opening for business were disposed of, chief of them being the election of officers. Colonel E. T. Ensign was elected president, and Louis W. Cunningham vice president. The cashier was not named, and will not be for some time yet.

Francis B. Hill and Edgar T. Ensign were appointed a committee to draw up by-laws for the association and to provide a seal. The president was authorized to call for payment of 50 per cent. of the capital stock, and to secure the necessary government bonds. Shares will be valued at $110 at the beginning, in order that a surplus fund of $5,000 may be created.

A committee consisting of C. L. Cunningham, C. M. Sherman and W. R. Armstrong was appointed, with the task of finding a suitable location for the bank to start business in. Messrs. Hill and Ensign were authorized to secure all necessary bank fixtures at once.

HERE TO PROMOTE GLASS FACTORY

Considerable talk has been indulged in for the past few days regarding the proposed establishment of a glass factory at this city by eastern parties, but so far as can be learned at the present writing there seems to be little prospect of anything resulting which will amount to anything in the end. A Mr. W. C. Russell is here and has been interviewing local business men and others on the proposition, but he stated yesterday in conversation with a reporter that he neither had capital nor represented the same. He added that he was not a glassmaker, but was acquainted only with the details of manufacture and sale from the business end of the business. Being asked the question direct if he was not simply a promoter, he answered that that was his business, and being asked further as to past connections, he stated the same to have been three years on the road as salesman for the Hamiltons at Pittsburg, and a short time in the same capacity for Macbeth, the chimney man.

Mr. Russell is trying to enlist local capital in the establishment of a plant, but is meeting with little, if any, encouragement.

EX-MARSHAL J. E. CLARK LEAVES FOR CABINET

Former City Marshal J. E. Clark left last night over the Rio Grande for his new mining camp in Cabinet, Mont., from which he received a letter yesterday morning, the same stating that his presence was absolutely necessary at the camp, as people were coming in thickly and the new camp is developing rapidly. The letter stated that the patent mill recently installed by Mr. Clark and his associates for the treatment of ore is working in the most satisfactory manner, and Mr. Clark adds the information that instead of two mills being established this spring, as before stated, there are three, which will make seven ten-stamp mills in running order within 60 days. Two of these are arranging to double their capacity in a short time.

Mr. Clark is accompanied on this trip by his son Walter, and they will remain during the summer in the new camp, working with Mr. J. R. Henry, who has been associated with Mr. Clark in the forming and laying out of the city of Cabinet.

TO WORK VAGS ON THE STREETS

A movement is on foot among the authorities to arrange for the use of vagrants under conviction on the street work of the city, it being thought advisable and necessary to do something to put a stop to the number of convictions in this line which are becoming a burden to the police court records. It is proposed to hire a guard and work these fellows on the streets until the fame of the chain-gang will spread far and wide, and thus keep the idle gentry at a safe distance when passing this city. The necessity for this action was very apparent yesterday morning, when six able-bodied, husky gentlemen of the road faced his honor, and after the usual speech were convicted of vagrancy and fined $15 and costs each. Neither of them had a cent, and they were committed, thus becoming a burden on the city and the taxpayers. It is a waste of time to give them hours to leave town, because a failure to do this would only bring them into court for another fine; therefore, it is likely that the chain-gang plan will be adopted in the near future.

A BUSY DAY IN JUSTICE COURT

Yesterday was a very busy day in the justice court, and the court-room was crowded all afternoon by persons with grievances and a desire to apply to the law for a remedy. One of the cases on the docket was a suit instituted by the W. D. Ascough Loan company against Frank Lodge on a note for $75. The trial was by jury, and the case was bitterly contested by Attorney Watt for the plaintiff and McKesson for the defendant. The verdict was for the defendant, and a notice of appeal was given by the plaintiff at once, on the close of the trial.

"The Do As You Would Be Done By Factory."

The famous Golden Rule factory, where Mayor Jones of Toledo, has made a handsome part of his fortune, is situated near the corner of two streets. A small park adjoins the building lot, and beneath the shade of a score of fine old trees are grouped settees and benches. There are swings, see-saws, and maypoles. Flower beds light the spot and gravel walks thread it. Here in summer time speakers of national fame in economic matters deliver addresses. The signs upon the paths do not read "Keep of the Grass," but, instead, "Children take care of your property," "Don't keep others waiting longer than you would have others keep the places while you are waiting." The factory employees have an orchestral organization and a vocal quartet.

The factory building is a modern workshop. On the wall is this legend: "Rule governing this shop: Therefore, whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, do you even so unto them." Under this rule the men work contentedly. The eight-hour day is in vogue and a percentage of the annual profits of the concern is distributed among them. Their children are educated in the factory kindergarten. There is a dining-room in the building and the workmen are served with a warm lunch at the noon hour or which they [illegible].

PROSECUTIONS UNDER GAME LAW TRIED

In Justice Ruby's court yesterday the cases against D. C. Sanderson and J. T. Sanderson, who were charged with killing game out of season, were tried. There were 5 counts against the two defendants, and a plea of "guilty" was entered in each. A fine of $25 and costs was assessed for each count, but four of the fines were remitted and the defendants were discharged upon the payment of one fine of $25 and all the costs of the suit.

The case against E. W. Fristoe of the Pearl market, was dismissed. Fristoe was charged with exposing for sale game which had been unlawfully killed.

The disturbance case against Mrs. H. Meminger of Manitou was tried before Justice Ruby yesterday, and was taken under advisement. Mrs. Meminger was charged with creating a disturbance by taking possession of a house being built for her before the contractor was through with it.

The case of the People vs. Mansfield was continued until April 25. Mansfield is charged with larceny as bailee.

MASK BALL AT THE TEMPLE TONIGHT

The first annual masquerade ball of the Antlers hotel employes will be given in Temple theater tonight. The arrangements for the ball are complete and it is expected that it will be one of the best mask balls of the season.

A costumer will be at Temple theater to supply those who have not attended to this detail before. Some very attractive costumes will be seen at the ball and in this respect the affair of tonight is likely to eclipse anything of the kind of the season. The indications are that there will be a big attendance and an evening of rare pleasure is promised those who attend. First-class music will be furnished and the floor committee will see to it that those who enjoy the merry waltz may have an opportunity to indulge themselves.

COTTAGES ARE SCARCE AT THE PASS TOWNS

That the summer resorts west of this city along the line of the Midland railroad are going to be extremely popular this coming season is attested by the fact that there is a great scarcity of available empty cottages.

One of the prominent citizens of Colorado Springs has been endeavoring to obtain for some of his friends a cottage at Cascade for the summer and upon investigation found that there was not a single one vacant which he could rent. Similar conditions prevail at Green Mountain Falls and Woodland Park, but few cottages being for rent in either of those places. In view of this status of affairs the Midland equipment which has been ordered is being rushed to completion so that every thing may be in readiness for the rush which is expected as soon as it is reasonably certain that the bad weather of winter and spring will not return.

STRUCTURAL STEEL CONTRACT FORFEITED

The county commissioners yesterday declared the contract of the American Bridge company, for the steel work on the county court house, forfeited, the company having failed to live up to the agreements of their contract. They have been dallying over the work in a way which would make it impossible for them to complete it within the limit required by the contract, and, although repeatedly warned by the commissioners, they refused to make any greater haste. The commissioners have now taken charge of the work on their own account, and men were placed on the job yesterday afternoon. It is now expected that satisfactory progress will be made.

IN THE COURTS

Both the district and county courts were in session yesterday. In the former the time was taken up by the Burrus suit. A cross complaint was filed by the plaintiff, and during the day the defendant's witnesses were on the stand attempting to break down the complaint. Little substantial progress was made, and the case will come up again today.

In the county court the jury gave a verdict of $374.50 in the case of Pauline Tittle vs. Dan Strouble. The defendant gave notice of an appeal to the district court, and was given 15 days in which to file a bond in the appeal, amounting to $700.

DAYTON WAS STOLEN AND THROWN AWAY

A Dayton bicycle was discovered in the brush north of Washburn field yesterday afternoon. It was found by three college girls who were out sketching.

Inquiry at the police department developed the fact that the wheel had been stolen from Walter Udick, of the Hefley-Arcularius Drug Co., about three weeks ago. It was No. 45138. The wheel had been divested of saddle and wheels.

THE GRIFFITHS COMING.

He who would laugh and grow fat should see Griffith, the hypnotist. An opportunity to do so will be afforded Monday evening and for five nights following when Griffith and a capable company of assistants will be seen at the opera house in this city. This will be an amusement event of more than ordinary interest, because of its novelty. Griffith has the reputation wherever he is known of giving the best entertainment of its class extant, and he proposes to demonstrate upon the occasion of his visit here that he is fully deserving of that reputation. Griffith KNOWS HOW. This is where he makes his strong point. He does things which no other hypnotist attempts, and they are things which people like to see. He is much more than ordinarily gifted, and his powers are made manifest in all sorts of amusing and unusual ways. Whoever misses seeing Griffith misses a treat. Admission prices, 25c, 35c and 50c.

VISITING COLLEGE—A number of students from the Cripple Creek high school are expected in the city today to visit at Colorado college. Arrangements have been made to show the visitors a good time and to display the advantages of the institution in the best possible light.

LOST BOY—Little Fred Donald, whose home is at 612 South Sierra Madre is being anxiously sought after by his parents. The little fellow, who is but three years old, wandered away from home yesterday noon and had not been seen up to a late hour last night. The police are looking for him.

A glimpse of the late Cecil Rhodes is had in a letter written from Kimberley soon after the British occupation of the city.

Ever a dreamer, his mind filled with visions of empire, Rhodes one day in Kimberley was picturing the grandeur of British South Africa when the rich lands should be developed under the British flag and the great colony could be tied to England by lines of fast express steamers and by a railroad to Cairo.

Just then a litter was borne by. Rhodes' face was illumined by enthusiasm. He had just said: "The cost of the struggle is as nothing to the fruits that are to be reaped."

The litter-bearers paused to change their hold. The fair face of an English soldier lad was turned toward Rhodes, and the wounded boy's pain-drawn lips moved.

Sympathy changed the expression of Rhodes' face as he stepped down to the dying soldier.

"I am not afraid to die," gasped the boy, bravely, "but there is no one to take care of mother."

"I will provide for her," said Rhodes, simply, as he made note of the mother's name and address, and he strode quickly into the house, with tears in his eyes, muttering:

"Oh, the cost of it; the cost of it all."—New York Times.

NEWS NOTES FROM DENVER

Preliminary Steps for Extradition of "Pug Ryan" From State of Washington.

Denver Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette.

Denver, April 17.—Sheriff Dettwiler of Summit county applied to the governor this morning for papers to extradite "Pug Ryan, who is under arrest at Seattle, Wash., but who is wanted in this state on charges of a number of serious crimes. The sheriff's papers were not properly drawn, so his application was refused, but he will return home and have them corrected and make a new application for the prisoner. Ryan is known through the state under a number of aliases. He served a term in Canon City for burglary and it is supposed that in 1898 he was a member of an organized band of desperate characters who terrorized Cripple Creek, Victor, Goldfield, Breckenridge and other mining camps. During that time a saloon was held up at Goldfield and the bartender who resisted the robbery was killed. Later a saloon was held up in Breckenridge. There were 15 men in the saloon, and all were compelled to part with their money. The robbers one of whom is said to have been Ryan were overtaken at Kokomo and a desperate battle ensued during which Sheriff M. E. Conrad of Summit county and Sumner Whitney, a business man of Kokomo, were killed, as were also Dick Manley and Dick Bryan, of the robbers' crowd. Ryan, however, escaped and was recently arrested at Seattle. The sheriff will have his papers corrected and will leave for Seattle in a few days.

The Wisconsin club banquet will be held at the Albany hotel tomorrow night. There will be covers laid for 150 guests. Among the speakers will be ex-Governor Adams, Senator Buckley, Robert J. Pitkin and others.

Arbor day will be generally celebrated in the public schools throughout the entire state tomorrow. All of the Denver schools will have public exercises at which trees will be planted. Helen L. Grenfell, state superintendent of public instruction will deliver an address at the Bryant school. Her subject will be "The Necessity of More Trees and Birds." State reports say that addresses of a similar nature will be made throughout the entire state.

A report from Fort Collins says that the Barry farm, consisting of 120 acres near that city, was sold yesterday afternoon to representatives of the Havemeyers for $18,000. A beet-sugar factory having a daily capacity of 1,000 tons will be built on the tract.

Among the articles of incorporation filed with the secretary of state office today were papers for the Cripple Creek Times company of Cripple Creek. The incorporators are Wm. H. Griffith, John S. Ilby and E. L. Edmunds. Their capital stock of the company is $18,013.

It was announced today that the fire and police board will not continue its suit against the city council for an increased appropriation. The board lost the case in the court of appeals Monday and has decided to drop it. The city authorities will not appropriate the funds to conduct the city government. The board will discharge sufficient employes in the fire and police departments to limit its expenses to the appropriation.

General Funston, department commander of Colorado is reported as saying that the surrender of Malvar is practically the last stroke in the Philippine war. The district thus brought under American control was one of the last that remained to be taken.

A report to the Times from Boulder tells of the death of Mrs. Savannah E. McCall, who was a resident of that city for many years.

The police this morning arrested three Italian boys who were picking up cigar stumps, and "snipes." When closely questioned, the boys admitted that they sold them for 20 cents per pound. They said the man who bought them ran a cheap cigar factory and used the stumps for filling. He also manufactures cigarettes. The Humane society will look after the boys while the health department will attempt to look after the factory where the refuse is used.

The Denver Tramway company has announced a number of changes. W. N. Byers, vice president of the company, will be succeeded by Wm. G. Evans, who for many years has been secretary of the company. Geo. E. Ross-Lewin will succeed Mr. Evans as secretary and John C. Beeler, constructing engineer, is promoted to the position of general manager. The changes were made at the request of Mr. Byers, who on account of physical conditions wished to retire from the vice presidency.

SWEET BREATH.

A test was made to find if just the leaving off of coffee alone would produce an equal condition of health as when coffee is left off and Postum Food Coffee used in its place.

A man from Clinton, Wis., made the experiment. He says, "About a year ago I left off drinking coffee and tea and began to use Postum. For several years previous my system had been in wretched condition. I always had a thickly furred, bilious tongue and foul breath, often accompanied with severe headaches. I was troubled all the time with chronic constipation, so that I was morose in disposition and almost discouraged.

At the end of the first week after making the change from coffee to Postum I witnessed a marvelous change in myself. My once coated tongue cleared off, my small appetite increased, breath became sweet and the headaches ceased entirely. One thing I wish to state emphatically: You have in Postum a virgin remedy for constipation, for I certainly had about the worst case ever known among mortals and I am completely cured of it. I feel, in every way, like a new person.

During the last summer I concluded that I would experiment to see if the Postum kept me in good shape or whether I had gotten well from just leaving off coffee. So I quit Postum for quite a time and drank cocoa and water. I found out, before two weeks were past, that something was wrong and I began to get costive as of old. It was evident the liver was not working properly, so I became convinced it was not the avoidance of coffee alone that cured me, but the great value came from the regular use of Postum.

NEWS NOTES FROM VICTOR

Threatening Blaze in Kitchen of Baltimore Hotel.—Osborn Shot Mountain Lion.

Victor Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette.

Victor, April 17.—What might have been a destructive fire broke out this afternoon at the Baltimore hotel, on North Third street. The blaze started in the kitchen, where a gasoline burner became ignited, the blaze spreading to the woodwork in the ceiling. In a very short time the ceiling was a mass of flames. Manager Stebbins heard the cry of fire from the chef and rushed to the kitchen with a hand fire-extinguisher, and soon had the blaze out. The damage was slight, and will amount to only the cost of repainting.

W. S. Osborn, a local groceryman, while on a hunting trip yesterday morning a few miles southwest of Victor, on the Canon City road, shot and killed a mountain lion. Mr. Osborn was about ten miles from Victor, at the mouth of Millsap creek, when he saw a mountain lion feeding upon a calf which he had killed. Mr. Osborn made a good shot, killing the lion at the first shot at a distance of about 850 feet. The animal measures about 10 feet from tip to tip. This lion is one which has caused so much loss of young stock to the ranchmen in the locality where it was killed.

Company J., N. G. C., entertained its many friends tonight at a hop given at Armory hall. Brennan's orchestra furnished the music and the dance was a great success.

A. D. Gould, a Boston mining man, is in the camp.

John Leary of Victor Miners' union No. 32, left this morning for Butte, Mont.

F. H. Richardson, editor and manager of the Pueblo Courier, was in the city today.

The first regular session of the city council was held tonight and the following appointments were made: night marshal, Patrick McDermott; city jailer, Thomas Murphy; patrolmen, H. C. McKinney, John Durnhan, and John Sandahl, chief of the fire department, William Sullivan; city firemen, Sylvester Blake, and Carl McAdams.

PECULIAR ACCIDENT.

By Associated Press.

Tuolumne, Cal., April 17.—H. Harvey, formerly of Rushville, Ind., is dead, as the result of a peculiar accident. While sawing a log a splinter from a steel wedge driven by a fellow workman severed Harvey's jugular vein. The men were far out in the woods. Harvey pinched the vein until his hand was numb, when his companions held the severed jugular for a distance of 15 miles to this place, where Harvey died.

GREEK PLAY.

By Associated Press.

Stanford University, Cal., April 17.—The first performance of Sophocles' tragedy, "Antigone," in the original Greek, on the Pacific coast, was given here tonight. For more than three months the students and members of the faculty under the direction of Dr. A. T. Murray of the Greek department, and Dr. H. A. Fairclough, professor of classical literature, have prepared for the presentation, which was a most successful one. A large delegation from San Francisco was present.

BISHOP OF HONOLULU.

By Associated Press.

San Diego, Cal., April 17.—Rev. H. E. Restrick, of this city, who was today appointed bishop of Honolulu by the house of bishops in Cincinnati, has been rector of St. Paul's church in San Diego for 20 years, coming here in 1882 from Iowa. He has been honored many times by the diocese and now holds important positions in the church. He is archdeacon of San Diego county and has been a member of four general conventions. He said he would not decide upon acceptance of the honor just tendered him, until he can consult with his bishop and others.

WINTER WHEAT.

By Associated Press.

New York, April 17.—According to dispatches to R. G. Dun & Co., the outlook is encouraging for a large yield of winter wheat. At most points the acreage is equal to or larger than last year, and even in the few reports of a decreased area the loss is put at only 10 per cent, while the most hopeful statements make the increase 50 per cent. On the whole there appears to have been little loss during the winter from weather conditions, although at a few points the snow protection was light. Damage by insects is also less serious than a year ago. The least satisfactory feature thus far is the lack of moisture which is causing anxiety in a number of states. With average weather during the rest of the season, however, there is every reason to anticipate a yield above the average, and probably fully equal to last year's crop. The liberal demand and good prices of the previous season would naturally tend to stimulate, and so reports of large acreage were to be expected, but estimates of condition are more sanguine than the government report on April 1, which may be due to favorable weather during the last few weeks.

CRIPPLE CREEK NEWS NOTES

Mandamus Proceedings to Determine Possession of City Clerk's Office—Forged Deed.

Cripple Creek Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette

Cripple Creek, April 17.—The city council met tonight at 8 o'clock in the council chamber of the city hall, Acting Mayor Van der Weyden presiding, Aldermen Gwinn, McLeod, McKee and Funk answered to the roll call and quite a little routine business was transacted. An effort was made to keep the council from holding a session in the city hall. F. J. Crane, the mayor, had the key to the council chamber but another key was secured and admittance gained. Tonight E. E. Wheatley was appointed city clerk vice D. C. Weyand, whose term of office expired on Sunday night at midnight. Mr. Weyand, however still has possession of the city clerk's office, alleging that he was reappointed to the office by Mayor Crane and Aldermen Pfeiffer and Ferguson. City Clerk Wheatley will tomorrow demand possession of the office and if he is refused, as he undoubtedly will be, mandamus proceedings will at once be commenced. The street cleaning force discharged by Alderman Pfeiffer was ordered to report tomorrow for duty. The city council has no desire to interfere with the law and order of the city, and for this reason has not appointed a successor to J. Knox Burton, the city marshall, who at present is holding this office, although his term has expired.

District Judge W. P. Seeds this afternoon in division 2 of the district court passed sentence upon Harley J. Lake and John E. Friedstein, the two men who with Kerch Kuykendall were found guilty of assault with intent to kill Lee Clockner at Stratton's Independence mine the morning of January 16. Lake was convicted at the same time as was Kuykendall, both convictions being secured on testimony furnished by Friedstein, who turned state's evidence. Lake was brought into court this morning, Attorney F. J. Hangs appearing for him. A motion for a new trial was overruled and the prisoner then made a plea for clemency. Lake stated that he had a wife and family and asked for a light sentence for their sake. He then denied that he had been brought to Judge Seeds's chamber for the purpose of holding a consultation with Judge Seeds relative to the case of the People vs. Eugene Engley. A recess was taken at noon and this afternoon Lake was again brought into court and sentenced to a term of not less than seven years or more than nine years in the state penitentiary. Attorney Hangs was entered as attorney for both Kuykendall and Lake and was given 90 days within which to file a bill of exceptions. Immediately after Lake was sentenced, John E. Friedstein was brought before Judge Seeds, sentenced to a term of not less than five years nor more than seven years in the state penitentiary, and the sentence suspended during good behavior.

A new trial was granted this afternoon by Judge Seeds to John and Harry Buzanes convicted of assault with intent to kill Nicholas Ravedy. A point of law was involved. It appears that the prisoners waived arraignment at the opening of the case, and that this was irregular. Attorney Stimson appeared for the defendants, while District Attorney Trowbridge represented the state. The men were released on $3,000 bond for appearance at the first day of the next term of court.

The cases against Mrs. Rose Redford, Claude Maxwell, Karl Killam, Andy Sellers and George Wimberly, charged with perjury and subornation of perjury in the Kuykendall-Lake case, were today continued by Judge Seeds until the next term of court.

Judge Holbrook, sitting in division 1 of the district court, today found a deed given by one A. T. Chamberlain on August 9 last to F. T. Hughes, conveying two lots and two houses on Carbonate and Pike's Peak avenues, to be a forgery. The property involved is worth about $1,500. It appears that Mr. Hughes after securing the property undertook to make a loan on the property with the Midland Savings & Loan association of Denver, and that one of the officials wrote to Anna T. Chamberlain asking her to make an affidavit to the effect that she was the A. C. Chamberlain who gave the deed. As she owned the property and has not made any transfer she refused. One month later W. F. Shaw, a notary, took the acknowledgment, declaring that a man about 35 years of age had appeared before him and that he took the acknowledgment in good faith. Then W. L. Dawson of Colorado Springs notified the county clerk that the deed was a forgery. Attorney McFeeley appeared for Mrs. Chamberlain and after the testimony the court had no hesitancy in saying that the deed was a forgery. Attorney McFeeley was ordered to draw up a decree.

Marriage licenses were issued today to John Hohman, aged 49 years, of Gillett, and Lena Pargent, aged 33 years, of Cripple Creek. Ben Busselle, aged 27, of Cripple Creek, and Lettie Tyler, aged 27, of Victor, and to George N. Stanley, aged 28, and Geneva Clara Bryant, aged 19, both of Cripple Creek.

Sheriff Robertson today gave a certificate of sale to George W. Wiggen for the Little Bessie lode No. 10937. The property was sold to the plaintiff to satisfy a judgment of $1,808.40 in the case of George W. Wigger vs. the Bessie G. M. Co.

Deeds were filed today with the county clerk as follows: Mrs. Rebecca J. Hickok to E. S. Asmussen, lot 25, block J, Cameron, $400; Alfred L. Davis to George W. Harker, one-half interest in lot 42, block 17, Cripple Creek, $1.

District Judge W. P. Seeds, accompanied by his wife and his niece, Miss Mamie Cottle, will leave tomorrow for California. Judge Seeds goes to California for the benefit of his health after his trying duties in the criminal division of the district court. He will remain on the coast about one month. Mrs. Seeds, who will represent the Cripple Creek Woman's club at the biennial at Los Angeles, will remain in California with Miss Cottle until some time in June.

NEWS NOTES FROM PUEBLO

Council Held Only Short Session—Temporary Injunction Against Denver & Rio Grande.

Pueblo Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette
Fariss Hotel.

Pueblo, April 17.—The special meeting of the council tonight by the request of the mayor for the purpose of deliberating upon the form of sanitary sewer, was of very short duration as Mayor Rizer did not have his plans ready to put before the council. The council adjourned shortly after roll call until Monday night.

Judge Dixon issued a writ of temporary injunction preventing the D. & R. G. R. R. Co. from continuing the construction of the proposed Salt Creek road to the new zinc smelters in response to petitions from the board of county commissioners, Agram Investment company and the Riverview Cemetery association. All three of the petitions assert that the two routes that have been surveyed can be used by the company to just as good advantage and without doing any injury to property either public or private, while the present route accepted by the D. & R. G. will do their property irreparable injury. The railroad officials state that a railroad is built for the good of the general public and not the few, that the present survey would by far be the most acceptable to the thousands of laborers who are employed in the smelters and stock yards.

Mr. S. J. Burris today purchased the three-story building at 308 South Union as low as $15,000. Mr. Burris has lately secured several other valuable properties in Pueblo.

Alex Jackson of the D. & R. G. will go to Parkdale tomorrow to look up a suitable location for the up-to-date dancing pavilion to be erected by the railroad company for the benefit of the moonlight excursionists to visit Royal Gorge during the coming season.

Meston & Co. have purchased for G. H. Whitcomb of Worcester, Mass., the northwest corner of Fifth and Court streets. The consideration is named as $1. Improvements will be made on the property at an early date.

F. B. Townsend of Cripple Creek spent the day in Pueblo on a trip to Del Norte and the southwestern part of the state.

A picture solicitor visited a resident on West Twelfth street at 3 o'clock this afternoon, entering the side door without knocking, pocketed a purse lying on the center table and immediately left the house. The lady of the house at once notified the chief of police, but so far the thief has not been overtaken.

The D. & R. G. will give the first excursion of the season April 27 to Royal Gorge and return. $1.75 round trip. A stop of 15 minutes will be made at Hanging Bridge in the heart of Royal Gorge. Three hours at Canon City to visit the penitentiary, where a grand concert will be given in the new opera house of the prison. Two hours at Florence to see real, live oil wells. Excursion train leaves Pueblo at 9 o'clock a. m.

Manager Herbert of the D. & R. G. is spending the day in Pueblo.

Mr. Charles Henkel, president of the Henkel-Duke Merc. Co., is spending a few weeks in a tour of the south.

The Santa Fe system today paid out a total of $45,000 to the employes of the Pueblo division.

At the United States land office today mineral application was made by Maurice O'Connell of Pueblo and James J. Pherson of Crestone for the Emmet, Owen, Roe and Emerald lodes, located in the Cripple Creek district, Teller county. James H. Williams of Colorado Springs and F. Beckhart and Elizabeth Beckhart of East St. Louis made final entry on the Kentucky Boy lode, Cripple Creek mining district, Teller county.

Disciplining British Officers.

The announcement that two British, or at least "colonial," officers have been shot in South Africa, by direction of Lord Kitchener, after trial by court-martial, is of high importance. There is no doubt that the execution of the Boer commander Scheepers, affected very unfavorably foreign observers who are by no means prone to put the worst construction upon British official actions in South Africa. Not only did the capture of that officer seem to have been in violation of the terms of the Geneva convention, to which Great Britain was a party. Some, at least, of the charges against him were not of violating the laws of war, but only of violating the conditions of the proclamation by which Lord Kitchener affected to make a special code for the Boers opposed to him in the field.

But one of the charges against Scheepers was for an unquestionable infringement of laws of war, in the killing of prisoners. Now the same penalty has been inflicted, for the same offense, upon officers serving with the British forces. The impartiality of justice tends, retroactively, to vindicate the conduct of the British in executing Scheepers, though the circumstances of his capture are still not justified. It also tends, prospectively, to accredit the proceedings of the court-martial which is to try Kruitsinger, if, indeed, he is to be tried at all, and not released, by way of an exchange for the enlargement of Lord Methuen. The application of the same weights and measures is the primary index of justice. That, by these executions, is attached, prima facie, to British military justice in South Africa.—(New York Sun.

Omaha Sprawls.

In no true sense has Omaha possessed its miles, says William R. Lighton in the April Atlantic. In appearance Omaha is today little more than a big aggregation of little towns. Civilized dignity and village simplicity rub elbows on every street. Here, on one corner, is a mammoth modern structure of stone and steel that cost $1,000,000; and within the adjoining block is a row of tottering frame hovels abandoned to the rats. It is in the residence districts that this contrast is most striking. Go out upon almost any of the main streets, and you will presently come to an unbroken half mile of stately avenue, grown with beautiful trees, and lined with a double row of as pretentious homes as you can find anywhere. Before you can fairly catch your breath you have passed from that scene into one of utter desolation. The asphalt pavement has given place to deep-rutted, yellow earth; your feet are treading rotten wooden sidewalk or a beaten dirt path, arched over and all but obstructed by a tangle of sunflowers and wild hemp. You will think you have come to the suburbs. But Omaha has no suburbs, save in the heart of the city; "improvement" has merely dropped a stitch. After walking for a quarter of a mile through that wilderness of weeds you will come to another stretch of proud avenue, with parks and fountains and massive mansions. Between those districts there will likely be cultivated cornfields and cabbage patches. New York could be set down upon the ground included within Omaha's boundaries, and would hardly lap over the edges.

"Our whole family went to Cripple Creek over the Short Line. It certainly was the most wonderful trip I ever had in my life. New Books

If you have not done so, be sure to read "The Right of Way," by Gilbert Parker.

In our judgment, it is the strongest novel that has been written within two years.

Other new books of present interest are:

"The Captain of the Grey Horse Troop," by Ham in Garland.

"The Leopard's Spots," by Thomas Dixon, Jr.

"The Fighting Bishop," by Herbert M. Hopkins.

"The Dark O' the Moon," by Crockett.

"The Making of a Statesman," by Joe Chandler Harris.

"The Siege of Lady Resolute," by Harris Dickson.

Many-Lettered Gentry Were Numerous

There were G. A.'s and T. F. A.'s and A. G. P. A.'s and T. P. A.'s, and perhaps A. P. A.'s running around loose in this city yesterday. Railroad men came in in flocks singly and in droves transacted their business and had a good time, for all the agents say that Colorado Springs is a good place to come to and when they get here they stay as long as they can. It is not often that so many arrive at the same time, however, and the names given are but a part of those who were visiting the local railroad offices yesterday. Of the Union Pacific there were General Agent E. R. Griffin and Traveling Passenger Agent J. C. Ferguson both from Denver; there were Traveling Passenger Agents E. H. Lamb of the Chicago & Northwestern, E. E. Hoffman of the Missouri Pacific, J. F. VanRensselaer of the Illinois Central, S. M. Shattuc of the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern, and A. N. Oliver of the Southern Pacific. Besides these there were, D. W. Aldridge general agent of the C. & N. W. at Denver; J. O. Reber, traveling freight agent of the Missouri Pacific, of Denver; James Culton, commercial agent of the Illinois Central at Denver; F. D. Gildersleeve, assistant general passenger agent of the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern, of St. Louis, and F. C. Matthews, traveling freight and passenger agent of the Burlington, of Denver.

Commencement Week at Colorado College

Commencement week at Colorado college will this year present the usual array of set functions and festivities, as may be gathered from the plans which were announced yesterday.

A baseball game between the seniors and the faculty promises some amusement on Friday, June 13, while in the evening an operetta will be given by the seniors. Acting President Parsons will preach the baccalaureate sermon on the following Sunday morning and in the evening there will be a musical service conducted by Prof. Crampton, and an address by the Rev. Alexis Stein, of New York. Monday morning, June 16, at 10 o'clock the class day exercises of Cutler academy will be held and in the afternoon will come the graduating exercises of the academy, the evening being reserved for the annual lawn party.

The next day, Tuesday, will be Senior day, with class day exercises in the morning and the annual reception in the evening. At the morning exercises there will be the president's speech by Tracy Love; class history, by Sperry Packard and Miss Ella Graeber; class statistics, by L. R. Ingersoll; class poem by H. L. Ross; presentation by Miss Lois Stoddard; class song, by Miss Pansy Raynolds. Ivy oration, by C. W. Weiser and the customary Ivy song by the whole class.

Wednesday, June 18, is to be commencement day, the degrees being conferred in Perkins hall at 10 a. m. As heretofore announced, the Rev. Dr. Cornelius H. Patton, of St. Louis will make the commencement address. At the conclusion of the formal graduation exercises the alumni luncheon will be held in Ticknor hall and the ceremonies of the week will be closed with the president's annual reception from 4 to 6 o'clock at his house.

Midland to Improve Its Local Offices

Extensive improvements are to be made in the local ticket offices of the Colorado Midland railroad on North Tejon street.

It was announced yesterday by City Ticket Agent Grant Pauley that the whole front of the building in which the offices are now located would be torn out and a large plate glass front would be put in, which would afford the best of light and ample opportunity for display. Alterations will also be made in the offices themselves, and Mr. Pauley says that he will spare no effort in an attempt to make the Midland offices the finest railroad offices in this city, where all who wish to come will be welcomed and where all kinds of information in the railroad line will be cheerfully furnished, as it now is in the present quarters. Work will probably begin on the improvements within a few days.

Another announcement with regard to the Midland road is that fine new cars will soon be added to the service, including a line of Pullman observation cars, which it is claimed will be unsurpassed in this state. Officials of the road are looking forward to a big season this summer and every energy is being bent to put the whole system in the best shape. Extensive preparations are being made for an immense amount of excursion business, which is expected to be done in addition to the usual wildflower excursion business.

CROSBY-EHRICH

LOCAL FIRM AMONG DONORS TO A COLLEGE CHAIR.

Department of Economics to Be Established at Washington and Lee University.

The Crosby-Ehrich syndicate is among the 93 contributors to the William L. Wilson memorial fund of $100,000, to endow, at Washington and Lee university in Virginia, a department of economics in honor of the university's lamented president, Hon. William Lyne Wilson. The Baltimore Sun says: "This endowed department of economics at Washington and Lee is due largely to the friends of Mr. Wilson in New York and Boston, friends of education in those cities, and a part to the university's Louisiana alumni. The amount needed to complete the fund prior to the committee's meeting was contributed by Mr. George Foster Peabody of New York, and Major H. L. Higginson of Boston, who had already been contributors. This fund was raised through a committee of Mr. Wilson's admirers, whose chairman was former President Grover Cleveland."

From this dispatch it will be noticed that not only was a prominent local firm a contributor to the fund, but that the largest individual gift was that of a man who is one of the trustees of Colorado college.

"LITTLE TYCOON" TOMORROW NIGHT

A splendid rehearsal of the "Little Tycoon" was held at the Opera house last night. Another, and the last, rehearsal will be held tonight.

The performance tomorrow night will be witnessed by a crowded house. This is assured by the advance sale of seats. The box office opened yesterday morning for the reservation of seats and there was a big rush. The office will be open again today and those who have tickets should get them reserved at once.

Features of the performance tomorrow night will be music by the well-known Cincinnati quartet, composed of Fred R. Henry, Walter Calland, Garfield Calland and Albert Bishop, and the Japanese flirtation dance which is original, having been arranged by Prof. Mercier, the dancing master.

Another Plan of Club Work

Art and Literary Department Has Elaborate Outline.

MRS. SLAYTON CHAIRMAN

Meeting Yesterday Was Well Attended and Members Have Great Interest in Work Proposed.

The art and literature department of the Woman's club held an important session yesterday at 2.30 p. m. in the assembly rooms of the Alta Vista hotel. The meeting was admirably conducted by Mrs. W. H. Slayton, chairman.

An excellent set of by-laws governing the procedure of the department was adopted, after brief discussion, as presented by Dr. Mary Tuttle.

The program committee consisting of Mrs. John E. White, Mrs. W. A. Platt, Mrs. L. C. Dana, Mrs. Clay H. White and Miss Gertrude Hill, must have given much care and research in preparing the very acceptable program, which was adopted as read by the chairman, Mrs. J. E. White. It was as follows.

A birdseye view of American literature from 607 to 1860.

October 1—First writers of Virginia, 1607-1707.

November 19—Political writers.

Thomas Jefferson, 1743-1826. Declaration of Independence. Gouverneur Morris, 1752-1816, Constitution of the United States, Thomas Paine, 1737-1809, "Common Sense," "Age of Reason;" Alexander Hamilton, 1757-1804, the Federalist. Washington's farewell address, 1732-1799. Jefferson established the University of Virginia, Hamilton established West Point academy.

December 3—Historical writers

Jared Sparks, 1789-1866. George Bancroft 1800-1891. John Lothrop Motley, 1814-1877. William H. Mention Richard Henry Dana, 1815-1882. George Ripley, 1802-1880, (Brook farm), Francis Scott Key, "Star Spangled Banner," 1814.

January 21—Fitz Greene Halleck, 1790-1867; Joseph Rodman Drake, 1795-1820, mention N. P. Willis 1806-1867, Bayard Taylor, 1825-1878, Noah Webster's dictionary published 1806, Lindley Murray's grammar, published 1795.

February 4—Ralph Waldo Emerson, 1803-1882.

Mention, Margaret Fuller, 1810-1850, George William Curtis, 1824-1892, Henry David Thoreau, 1817-1862, the Brook Farm, 184?-184?.

Mention, Wm. Lloyd Garrison, Wendell Philips.

Mention, John G. Saxe, 1816-1887.

Mention, Walt Whitman, 1819-1892. Harriet Beecher Stowe, 1812-1893.

Club days, open meeting:

1. Song writers and songs of the Puritans and Cavaliers.

2. Writers, illustrators and music of this year, or Washington, D. C., art in landscape and architecture. Stereopticon pictures.

Recommended—As a text book for all, Brander Matthews "Introduction to American Literature," all the year. Moses Coit Tyler's "American Literature," for first two meetings.

The rest is easy. Many of these writers lived long after 1860. But all except one—Parkman—were born before 1820, they were, therefore, 40 years old in 1860, and in the days when young men were graduated from college and began their lifework before they were 20, much of their best writing was probably done before that date. Abraham Lincoln will be a fine starting point for another year's work.

Art Program.

As it is proposed to devote equal time to the study of art, a companion program was presented.

American art history from 1860.

October 1—Arts and crafts of the American Indians (Illustrations).

October 15—Colonial art as applied to architecture and interior decorations.

December 17—Miniatures and silhouettes, 1759-1860, illustrated.

January 7—Modern portrait painters, 1800-1860.

Huntington; Sentze, Page.

January 21—Church; Bierstadt; Catlin, Audubon.

February 4—Engraving, 1764-1860. Exhibition.

February 18—Sculpture, 1791-1860.

April 1—Illustrators and illustrations.

April 15—American art academies and museums, 1800-1860.

May 6—How to judge a picture and how to frame a picture.

May 20—Department election.

The committee also made four recommendations that were received with favor.

Subjects of entertainment for open meeting.

Subject, next department meeting, "Audrey" and "Lazarre."

Classes in voice culture and physical training.

Study of the applied arts.

Mrs. White's remarks on the latter subject, "Applied Arts," were very instructive and helpful and will tend to broaden out the study of art among club women. Her very generous offer to devote one-half day a week to instruction was warmly commended and will be taken advantage of by many of the department members. The number registered to date is 98.

SAYS THERE WAS A COCK FIGHT AT SPINNEY

A gentleman who has been traveling on the Midland railroad, brings to this city a story of a cock fight which is said to have taken place near Spinney. While the train was waiting a few minutes on the side track, he got off and was walking around taking in the beautiful scenery, when his attention was called to a lot of men fighting chickens behind a certain building. They had lots of money and were betting it as freely as Mexicans on the result of each fight.

One fight was amusing on account of a game little fellow that fought until he was so tired that he just lay down beside his opponent that he had just put out of the business, as the long distance pugilists say, and it was thought that he would die too, but just as they were about to remove him, he shook himself, looked around to see if his comb was on straight and then gave a lusty crow to show that there was more fight left if he had to use it.

The gentleman says that the chickens looked like plain, ordinary barnyard fowls, but the onlookers called them gamecocks. It is said that these fights take place weekly.

Test the Virtues of the Wonderful Curative Properties of Swamp-Root

To Prove What Swamp-Root, the World-Famous Kidney and Bladder Remedy, Will Do for YOU, Every Reader of the Gazette May Have a Sample Bottle Free.

Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Gentlemen—In justice to you, I feel it is my duty to send you an acknowledgment of the receipt of the sample bottle of Swamp-Root you so kindly sent me. I had been out of health for the past five years with kidney and bladder trouble. Had our best physicians prescribe for me. They would relieve me for the time being, but the old complaint would in a short time return again. I sent for a sample bottle of Swamp-Root, and I found it did me a world of good. Since then I have taken eight small bottles bought at my drug store, and I consider myself perfectly cured. It seemed as though my back would break in two after stooping. I do not have the smarting and irritation, nor do I have to get up during the night to urinate, as I formerly did three or four times a night, but now sleep the sleep of peace. My back is all right again, and in every way I am a new man. Two of my brother officers are still using Swamp-Root. They, like myself, cannot say too much in praise of it. It is a boon to mankind. We recommend it to all who are suffering from kidney and bladder diseases.

My brother officers (whose signatures accompany this letter), as well as myself, thank you for the blessing you have brought to the human race in the compounding of Swamp-Root.

We remain, yours very truly,
JAMES COOK.
HUGH E. BOYLE.
JOHN J. BODKIN.
Officers of the 58th Police Precinct, Greater New York.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the famous new discovery, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for many kinds of diseases, and if permitted to continue much suffering with fatal results are sure to follow. Kidney trouble irritates the nerves, makes you dizzy, restless, sleepless and irritable. Makes you pass water often during the day and obliges you to get up many times during the night. Unhealthy kidneys cause rheumatism, gravel, catarrh of the bladder, pain or dull ache in the back, joints and muscles; makes your head ache and back ache, causes indigestion, stomach and liver trouble; you get a sallow, yellow complexion, makes you feel as though you had heart trouble; you may have plenty of ambition, but no strength; get weak and waste away.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is used in the leading hospitals, recommended by physicians in their private practice, and is taken by doctors themselves, because they recognize in it the greatest and most successful remedy that science has ever been able to compound.

If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at the drug stores everywhere. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root—Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root—and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

EDITORIAL NOTICE.—Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder remedy, is so remarkably successful that a special arrangement has been made by which all of our readers who have not already tried it may have a sample bottle sent absolutely free by mail. Also a book telling all about kidney and bladder troubles and containing many of the thousands upon thousands of testimonial letters received from men and women cured by Swamp-Root. In writing, be sure and mention reading this generous offer in The Colorado Springs Daily "Gazette" when sending your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Four Hearses Were In Line

Funeral of the Murphy Family Took Place Yesterday.

INTERMENT AT EVERGREEN

Impressive Ceremonies Attended the Burial of the Dead—Addressed by Col. Denny.

Four members of the well-known Murphy family, who succumbed to pneumonia in Cripple Creek within a few days, were laid to rest yesterday afternoon in Evergreen cemetery with the most impressive ceremonies.

Formal ceremonies were held at the undertaking rooms of Hallett & Baker, at 1 o'clock, at which the Episcopal committal service was read by the Rev. Thomas Alvord Schofield, rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal church of Cripple Creek, after which the procession was formed and the hearses escorted to the graves. Heading the procession was the firing squad of company H, the Cripple Creek organization of the National guard, who were followed by members of the G. A. R., after whom came the local companies of the National guard and a number of Odd Fellows. Three members of company H were on each side of the hearse containing the body of William Murphy, while six members of the G. A. R. acted as a similar guard of honor for the remains of Captain D. E. Murphy. Numerous friends of the family outside the military and fraternal organizations were in attendance upon the ceremonies at the undertaking parlors and at the graves.

At Evergreen cemetery, the last sad rites were first performed by the G. A. R. and the following address was made by Col. J. C. Denny of Cripple Creek, commanding the western division of the department of Colorado and Wyoming.

"Comrades and Friends:—The circumstances here presented are indeed sorrowful. Captain Murphy was not only my comrade, but my friend; I knew him well in the Cripple Creek district for the last seven years. Mrs. Murphy, here lying beside her husband, was an honored member of the Ladies of the G. A. R. circle, as is her living daughter. The son, William, belonged to company H of the Colorado National guard, and was very popular with its members, as the presence of so many of his comrades attests, and his young wife and infant daughter here present adds to the grief and sorrow of all. The son, George, a member of the Miners union, was deservedly popular with all who knew him, and the Anchoria-Leland mine shut down during this funeral, and many of the miners are here present.

"But it is of the father, Dabart E. Murphy, my comrade, I wish to speak and in my humble way pay tribute to his memory. Living in central Missouri at the breaking out of the war, he immediately took sides with the union, although by so doing he lost his business and his friends. Enlisting as a private in company G, Eighth Missouri cavalry, he served throughout the war and was honorably discharged the 13th day of April, 1865, as a captain, having been promoted on different occasions for meritorious conduct and bravery upon the field, the last few months of his service being on General Sanborn's staff.

"Since I have known him he has always had a soft place in his heart for the unfortunate, old and decrepit veteran, and both he and his wife always gave freely to the needy veteran and his family. So you do well today, comrades, in honoring their memory. None were ever turned away from the Murphys empty-handed and many a troubled heart was made glad by them.

"President Roosevelt has lately said that the most precious thing a father could leave his son was an honorable discharge from the civil war. Edward Murphy, your father, has left to you this yellow piece of parchment; to you, his eldest son, and now his only son. Preserve it. Guard it as the apple of your eye. It is more previous and honorable than the Golden Fleece or the Star and Garter or any emblem of power or glory that could be given by prince or king. It is more precious than all the wealth of all these hills. It is an official history and record of your father's four years of honorable service in the most gigantic war, both in action and results of all times, ancient or modern, and when you are called upon by the grim monster, hand this parchment to your eldest son that he may know the kind of man his grandfather was.

"And now let me say to you, Edward and Eugenia, who now stand alone in the wide world, your home wiped out by one fell stroke, that there are in the Grand Army of the Republic over 300,000 members who in front of drawn swords and in the presence of the Supreme Commander of the universe, have declared that they would stand by the orphan—by you—though the whole world assail, and in this trying hour they are your friends.

"Comrades of Colorado Springs post 22, for these friends and on behalf of the G. A. R. of Cripple Creek, and especially on behalf of these two orphans, their brother's widow and orphan daughter, I thank you for your courtesies and assistance at these obsequies."

Following the G. A. R. rites, those of the Woman's Relief corps were performed, as Mrs. Murphy had been a member of that organization. The Odd Fellow's forms were also observed and the National guard fired the regulation military salute, after which taps were sounded.

Auxiliary Had a Rousing Meeting

The Woman's auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. and their friends have cause to feel much elated over the splendid success of yesterday's social gathering in the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Willis S. Montgomery, 1025 North Nevada avenue.

Although Mrs. Montgomery was called away to California and so was unable to personally greet her guests with characteristic generosity, she insisted that the house be thrown open, so her friends, Mrs. F. A. Mueller, Mrs. F. J. Black, Mrs. J. C. Gallagher and Mrs. A. H. Whaite enacted the part of hostesses most graciously.

The program included excellent piano music by Mrs. O. S. Pilcher, Miss Hazel Whaite and Miss Freyschlag, and delightful violin solo by Mrs. Nelly Udelle Smith.

The fine paper prepared by Mrs. Robert Kerr, "History of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A." was read by Mrs. J. R. Robinson as Mrs. Kerr was detained at the Woman's club meeting.

Mrs. B. F. Lowell and Mrs. C. C. Dickey presided at the tea table in the social hour. When Mrs. J. B. Gregg spoke so eloquently of the auxiliary that 34 new names were added to the membership aggregating $34, with the silver collection these receipts of the meeting reached fully $50. Fully 200 women were in attendance and the affair was one of the finest ever held in the city.

Traveler Dies By His Own Hand

J. W. Lenox of Claremore, Mo. Cuts His Throat.

ON ROCK ISLAND TRAIN

Act Was Committed Early Yesterday Morning 100 Miles East of This City.

J. W. Lenox, a Missouri farmer who was traveling with a party of homeseekers who were going to Washington, committed suicide on board the Rock Island train near Claremont, about 100 miles east of here early yesterday morning. Mr. Lenox is supposed to have been mentally unbalanced when he took his life.

The unfortunate man committed suicide by stabbing himself in the neck and severing the jugular vein. Death was almost instantaneous. The body was brought to this city and was turned over to Coroner Law. It was prepared for shipment and taken back to Grandin, Mo., by relatives yesterday afternoon.

All Tuesday night, his relatives stated, Lenox had been acting as though deranged. He made several attempts to commit suicide and once nearly succeeded in jumping from the moving train. His friends went through his clothes and took away all weapons that were dangerous, as they thought, but it appears that they left a small pocket knife in his overcoat. He was evidently sane enough to know that the knife was in the overcoat pocket. Just before 4 o'clock yesterday morning, when the car was getting chilly, he asked for his overcoat. It was given to him and, like a flash, he drew out the pocket knife and stabbed himself in the neck. A doctor who was on the train was summoned quickly, but the man died before the physician reached him.

Lenox was 30 years of age. He had been a farmer all his life and was quite well to do. He was not married, but had made his home with his sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Patterson. Mr. and Mrs. Patterson and their three children were on the train. They were a part of a homeseeker's excursion party which was en route to Washington. The rest of the party continued on their way, but the Patterson family returned to Missouri with the remains. After the funeral they will again start for Washington.

It is supposed that the altitude caused Mr. Lenox's mental derangement, although, his brother said, he was subject to fits of insanity after an over-indulgence in liquor. It is said, however, that he had not been drinking.

COLORADO SPRINGS NEEDS A NEW OPERA HOUSE.

WITHIN the past week it has been again conclusively demonstrated that the present Colorado Springs opera house is utterly inadequate to the needs of this city. One of the best companies on the road was secured for the usual one night engagement.

All the seats in the house were sold within three hours of the opening of the office for the sale of tickets and the number of those that were gravely disappointed at being unable to attend this performance probably exceeded the number of those who were in time enough to secure seats.

Such a condition of affairs is nothing else than disgraceful to a city that boasts of being one of the most progressive and wealthy communities of the west and that makes a special business of providing entertainment for visitors, transient or permanent. And as we are very positively assured by those best in a position to know that it is impracticable for good companies to play more than a one night's engagement in this city there is no other remedy than the building of a new and larger opera house.

The present opera house was built more than twenty years ago. At that time it was greatly in advance of the needs of the town, and it was then and remained for many years a monument to the public spirit and enterprise of Messrs. Howbert, Humphrey and Crowell who gave it to the city as an evidence of their regard for its needs and their interest in its welfare.

But the opera house that was magnificent for a town of 7,000 people is an absurdity in a city of 30,000.

It causes considerable and unnecessary discomfort to our people. It prevents us from getting many of the best companies which will not come to so small an opera house as the present one. It seriously interferes with the business stage and box office of the larger companies that do come. It is a serious fault in our means of entertainment for our visitors and entirely out of keeping with the general reputation and policy of Colorado Springs.

There are few things that this city needs more than a new opera house, and the annoyance of the present utterly inadequate accommodations will be felt more and more until proper provision is made by some of the many public spirited and far seeing capitalists of the city.

In this connection there is another matter that may well receive the serious consideration of the local amusement managers. That is the establishment of a local stock company for the production of plays during the summer season.

Such companies are established at nearly all summer resorts of importance and constitute a valuable part of their amusement features. In the winter the companies are on the road or the actors are located at some large city, but this is not the case in the summer.

Colorado Springs with its wide reputation as a resort city, and the undoubted advantages it has to offer in the way of delightful summer climate and surroundings would have the same preference among actors that it enjoys among all other classes, and the Colorado Springs summer theater might be made a notable success.

It could surely be made to pay handsome returns upon the investment, and would be most valuable in attracting visitors and prolonging their stay.

Something of this kind ought to be done, and it will undoubtedly be done in the near future.

The person who first takes hold of it in the right way will be the one who will gain the profit and the thanks of his fellow citizens.

THE CHINESE EXCLUSION BILL.

EVERYTHING considered, it is probably better that the senate should extend the time limit of the present Chinese exclusion law with the modifications set forth in the amendments rather than that it should enact the radical and drastic measure prepared by the Pacific coast senators and representatives.

At all times and under all circumstances the faith of this nation should be maintained inviolate and it was doubtless the belief that the provisions of the radical bill conflicted with the treaty provisions that led to its defeat.

Besides that it was felt, with good reason, that this was an especially unfortunate time to do anything that would interfere with our growing trade with China. Under the operations of the present law the Chinese population of the United States is decreasing, and there is certainly no emergency that calls for immediate and radical action, outside of the need occasioned by the expiration of the time limit of the present law.

A few days ago a local contemporary sent the mining editor to report a church luncheon with the following result as it appeared in print:

"CHURCH LUNCHEON—The women of Grace church will serve luncheon at the Thunder mountain region which they are distributing free of charge."

"Fair and warmer on Sunday and Monday," said Brandenburg. It was undoubtedly fair above the clouds, and it was warmer than it was in Greenland.

Ellis Meredith, in the News, speaks of the Denver public library as a "hennery." A good hit. She hardly seems to be out on a fowl.

THE SURRENDER OF MALVAR.

THE SURRENDER of General Malvar the Filipino leader who has kept alive the spark of rebellion in the vicinity of Manila, undoubtedly marks the end of the war in the Philippines.

The war has been "ended" a good many times already and for several months past it has amounted to nothing more than the isolated and occasional attacks upon unwary American outposts. Strictly speaking, this was not warfare, and the declarations that the war was over had a real and substantial foundation.

But with the surrender of Malvar, and the promulgation of the orders to the forces under his control, even this pretense of regular opposition to the American forces is at an end, and even the strongest opponents of the American policy must be compelled to admit that the main object of the American operations has been gained by the crushing out of the insurrection.

On the same day on which Malvar made his surrender, the insurgent forces in Samar, it is believed, also surrendered.

This leaves the entire civilized and semi-civilized islands and portions of them more thoroughly under the American control than they ever were under that of Spain. The interior of Mindanao and Mindoro, and the island of Palawan and other smaller islands remain in scarcely disturbed savagery, and will continue to be the scene of outbreaks for many years to come.

But in the main part of the Philippines, the great island of Luzon and the Visayan or middle group, the conditions are suitable and the time proper for a fair test of the capacity of the Filipinos for local self-government, and a demonstration of their ability to become a civilized nation.

What's the matter with Chicago? And what's the matter with the University of Chicago? Is the influence of Triggs paramount in the stock yards city? The professors, as well as the pupils of the institution, seem to have been "exposed" to the Triggs infection when he was broken out the worst, and now the mischief is done. They might have tried some mental or moral vaccination against the spread of the Triggs disease but now it would seem to be too late. Professor Frederick Starr in an address to a class in anthropology at the University of Chicago, composed of 75 young women of the institution, denounced the wedding ring the dress coat, and other matters of dress and custom which he did not fancy, and ridiculed them severely. Unquestionably the dress coat is not a beautiful thing but the wedding ring is and the professor might be in better business than talking such rubbish to a class of romantic young women. Does "education" of that kind educate? If the professor desires to wear a "wamus" in lieu of a dress coat at some of the Chicago functions of polite society, he might do it—once. Out on all such sensational rot, in the name of education.

Dr Sarah Hackett Stevenson more or less well-known in Chicago, seems desirous, with Dogberry, to "be writ down an ass," since she told the Woman's club of the stockyards city that "clothes are largely the cause of disease." If people who take the Kneipp cure by walking barefooted on the grass would go on all fours they would carry out the whole theory of the cure, "the disadvantages of man began when he stood upright and placed his head in an unnatural position man as an animal is suffering degradation at the hands of civilization" and more of that kind of rot. She capped the climax by saying "Give me an Indian blanket—for cold weather." What Sarah would wear in warm weather she discreetly leaves to the imagination, or else the reporter left it out. Surely this is edifying talk for the Woman's club! But there is lots of space left yet on our western prairies and in our mountain forests where Sarah could disport in "a state of nature" without fear of the policeman on the corner or of offending a club of ladies who have some sense of civilized propriety left after their contact with civilization.

A good story is being told of an interview between John Wanamaker and Kaiser Wilhelm, and if it is not true, it ought to be. A German paper is quoted as an authority for the story, which is to the effect that John Wanamaker was presented to the emperor during one of his majesty's expeditions to Norway. The introduction occurred on board the Hamburg-American line steamer Auguste Victoria, when the emperor visited that steamer. Disregarding ceremony, Mr Wanamaker shook the emperor's hand, shook it firmly, and said:

"I am glad to meet such an enterprising young man; that is just the sort of thing we admire in America," and the conversation continued in this familiar tone.

Emperor William, who seemed to be highly entertained by this conversation remarked afterward to a member of his suite, "In all my life nobody ever talked to me like that."

The selection by Chairman Fairley of Hon John F. Vivian of Golden as secretary of the Republican state committee is an excellent one.

Mr Vivian is an able and clean man and he belongs to no obnoxious clique or ring inside the Republican party.

It will take something more than the word of a convict, an ex-convict, or a convict's relative, uncorroborated to convince right minded people that Secretary Stonaker has been guilty of the acts charged to him.

Jerry Simpson has shaken the dust of Kansas from his feet, and is now a resident of New Mexico. But if he discards his foot-covering there, as he did in Kansas, he will find the sands of New Mexico very hot and uncomfortable.

Alfred Austin, the poet-laureate of England, it may be worth mentioning, has the same first name as Alfred Tennyson. But there is nothing else similar between them.

It is announced that a "concert will be given in the City park in Denver next Sunday, if it is warm." They might try forcing the season by playing "A Hot Time" and similar pieces.

A STATE NEWSPAPER.

(Ft. Collins Evening Courier)

Perhaps no newspaper in Colorado has done and is doing more to direct public attention to the varied attractions, superior advantages and almost limitless resources of the state than the Colorado Springs Gazette. It speaks for Colorado at all times and under all circumstances, never tiring in its efforts to build up and advance the varied interests of the state and promote the welfare of its people. It overlooks no part of the state, treating all portions alike from an optimistic standpoint.

DIFFERENT METHODS NEEDED.

Five bully gold mines, reported full of ore,
The English purchased Stratton's brick, then there were four.

Four then remaining, but sorrowful to see,
Lillie joined the has-been class, then there were three.

Aided by a Winchester and methods not all new
The Doctor raked the Jack Pot in, then there were two.

The Independence deal, also a trick most neatly done,
It hurt—but someone made a wad, then there was one.

One that we banked on—old Elkton wouldn't quit!
Family here and corn-juice there—now look at it!

And say, you mining fellows, you better have a care
Lest soon your market prove to be a bubble full of air.

As a Rule.

"De man who talk de mos' erbout he trubbles to he fren's," remarked Uncle Ephe, "usually think de least erbout dem when he am alone."

Present-Day Requirements.

"I see Pun—tem is a candidate for the United States senate. Why, isn't he a professional pugilist?"
"You bet! That's his strongest campaign argument!"

No Laughing Matter.

"This," remarked the sheriff, as he took possession of the defunct gas company, "is what the poets would call 'the light that failed.'"

Behind the Scenes.

"At last I have found you, curse you!" he hissed.
Then he picked up the collar-button and put it in its place.

Change in Ownership.

(Salida Record.)

Mr. Will F. Weber has sold his interest in the Record and will, after a few weeks farther connection with the business, leave Salida permanently. Mr Weber is compelled to quit Salida on account of the failing health of Mrs. Weber. The lady has been almost an invalid for several years and during the past few months grew constantly worse. The physicians recommend that she seek a seacoast climate and this Mr Weber will do as soon as he leaves Salida. It is with deep regret that Mr Weber's associates see him leave the Record, for he is without question one of the best men in his line of work in the west today. Mr Weber is himself loath to leave, but the move is compelled by force of circumstances over which he has no control.

Mr Weber's interest has been bought by Mr Henry J Foulk, a well known Salida resident and newspaper man. Mr Foulk has been for the past twelve years in the employ of the Salida Mail and has been a resident of the city for twenty years. He is recognized as a man of excellent business qualities, and is the owner of considerable business property. He will to a considerable extent look after the business of the Record outside of the office, and the present management bespeak for him a kindly reception by all on whom he may call. He expects to assume his new duties on the first of next month.

Otherwise than named there will be no change in the management of the Record, while the policy of the paper will continue exactly as heretofore under the direction of the present editor.

Board of Pardons vs. Law.

(Pueblo Statesman.)

Judge Dixon evidently made a great mistake in allowing a jury instead of the state board of charities to sit upon the case of Hex, the colored murderer, or else the state board of charities, as a board of pardons, has greatly outraged all public sense of respect for law. Possibly we may be able by the next campaign to leave off the ticket the candidates for governor and other state officials and turn over the whole works to the state board of charities.

Much to the chagrin of the secretary of the state board of charities the last regular session of the legislature restored capital punishment to our statutes. A recent jury found Lawrence Hex guilty of murder in the first degree and the law said he should hang, but the state board of charities said, "away with the law. Hex shall live."

When arrested a few moments after the double murder, Hex said to the officers: "I accomplished what I came to do, and I have killed both." Perhaps the most heartless thing was after Hex had shot the colored man, White and put a bullet through Lizzie Allen, also colored, and started away, the woman revived and began to scream, when Hex deliberately turned back and entering the house shot the defenseless woman twice more. A colored man who was on the coroners jury says the range of the balls in two of the wounds on the body infallibly proves that they were fired after she fell, thus establishing the proof of his return for a second round after the woman fell.

Judge Dixon in passing sentence said, "If a cold-blooded murder was ever committed, Lawrence Hex you have committed it."

The state board of pardons claims justification on two counts. First, that no murderer has ever been hung by the law in Colorado without the case having been taken to the supreme court. But instead of this step being in favor of his commutation to life it simply brings out the fact that the county commissioners refused to donate the money to carry the case up on the ground that the case was so clear and so fully in accord with public sentiment as to be unworthy of such an expense. The better class of colored people who were abundantly able to put up the money declined to do so for the same reason. The other consideration was the strong appeal from the state officials, senators and bankers of Texas among whom the colored lawyer seems to have made a more favorable impression in Hex's favor than the facts at home enabled him to do before a Pueblo jury. Indeed we think if the said lawyer will push the case in a few weeks more he may get Hex pardoned out so that he may come home and kill Ike Johnson, and a few more honest negroes who thought he should be hung.

Now with all lights in the case the Statesman is of the opinion we would better do away with the state board of charities and pardons or wipe all criminal proceedings off our statute books.

Status of American Exports.

To sum up this review of the year's foreign commerce, it may be said in a single sentence (1) that the excess of imports has been a together in manufacturer's materials or in articles which are not produced in the United States, and (2) that the reduction in exports has been confined to two classes of articles, in which the reduction was due to abnormal conditions, and in no way an indication that the popularity of American products has decreased in any part of the commercial world.—(O. P. Austin in the April National.

HOLBROOK & PERKINS.

BROOKS AND WITHERSPOON WRITE FROM THUNDER MT.

Word was received in this city yesterday from the first Colorado outfit to reach the Thunder mountain district Messrs Brooks Irione and C S Witherspoon who left this city a few weeks ago in the interests of local investors They report that, through the deepest snow and the most difficult roads imaginable enduring hardships which cannot lightly be passed over they have reached Smith's creek which is in the mineral belt known as the Thunder mountain district although the mountain proper has not yet been reached

They have provisions for two months and report that in this way they have a great advantage over those who have hazarded the journey at this time of the year without adequate supplies Flour is selling at $1 per pound while bacon brings 75 cents per pound and other articles of food are selling on the same basis

There is an outlook for a great inrush they say as all the towns bordering the district are filled with prospectors waiting to go in and they believe that hundreds of fortunes will be made of which they are expecting to get their share They believe from what they have already gathered from the district that it is one of the most wonderful mineral countries in the world While it is necessary to have mills to treat the low grade ores it will be possible to erect modest stamp mills at a comparatively low cost after roads are blazed through the wilderness and in the meantime they intend to locate all the best claims they can find against the time when the possibility of erecting mills arrives

BUTTONHOLE INTERVIEWS

Everything at the power house will be operation about the first of May I think,' said L E Wade of the Colorado Springs & Suburban Railway company yesterday 'There is some iron work being done now which takes quite a little time on account of the straightening and boring holes and such vexatious little things, but the work is progressing steadily and a couple of weeks will see the power house running all right

'As the Missouri Pacific controls the Denver & Rio Grande it seems to me that it is the coming road for Colorado,' said J. O Reber, at the Alamo hotel last evening Mr Reber is the traveling freight agent of the Missouri Pacific with headquarters in Denver 'The line is constantly improving, he continued, and giving better service and there is no reason why the Missouri Pacific should not do the largest business in the state Other parts of the system for local reasons may show a decrease in earnings compared with last year I am not acquainted with that part of it but the Colorado section is doing an immense business and for a dull season of the year, things are going along very well'

It is a pity said Mr J M Allen yesterday in discussing the dissemination of Cripple Creek news throughout the east 'that some of the good things which are occurring cannot be published through the medium of the Associated Press It seems as if that association accepted for publication only the bad news Great prominence has been given to Mr Hammond's discouraging reports the passing of the Portland dividend and other similar matter and nothing whatever has been accepted about the rich strike in the Vindicator or the fact that despite Mr Hammond's report the Independence mine goes on producing rich ore and paying regular dividends If a little more courtesy could be shown to Cripple Creek by the Associated Press in publishing legitimate news items both good and bad it would do more good than the combined advertising work of the exchange and the brokers

That story in this morning's buttonhole column said a north end resident on the street yesterday, the one about how many eggs a hen will lay in a year, is nearly as bad as to ask how big is a lump of salt The speaker was an amateur poultry raiser and what he don't know about hens would wreck a Kansas chicken ranch but he continued Our domestic hens are supposed to have originated from the jungle fowl of India and the hens of this species in their wild state lay not more than 30 eggs a year which of course were intended solely to hatch The fact that domestic fowls now exceed this number is due to the influence of civilization—breeding, selected feeding and the like. The common barnyard fowl will lay 100 to 125 eggs a year With increased care as to food and shelter this number can be increased to 150, or say 12 dozen With thoroughbred fowls of the best known laying breed it is possible to bring the number up to 200 per year / An individual hen that exceeds this record is a corkalooloo and likewise a rara avis

Of course during a part of the year a good hen will lay an egg every day but this does not mean that any hen will lay 365¼ eggs a year which would be the maximum toward which improved breeding would tend '

GIRLS GLEE CLUB SCORED A SUCCESS

The Girls Glee club of Colorado college gave their annual concert before a large and fashionable audience in Perkins Fine Arts hall last night Round after round of applause attested the pleasure of the audience at the entertainment afforded by the young ladies and the soloists who assisted them

The first part of the program was devoted to the cantata The Lady of Shalott The beautiful words of Tennyson set to music by Wilfred Bendall were thoroughly enjoyed by the audience as they were sung by the sweet fresh voices Mrs Garrison showed up especially well in the solo work which opened the cantata and received well merited applause Her voice was never heard to better advantage in this city and she added to the host of her admirers all those who had never listened to her before The young ladies showed the effect of hard training in this selection Their voices blended sweetly and they sang with excellent spirit Mrs George Crampton's work in company with the glee club was very enjoyable Mrs Crampton has a deep contralto voice of pure and rich tone Her solo 'The Monkey on a Stick from 'The Geisha was one of the gems of the program The light work by the glee club was done with legitimate college vivacity and won much applause

The concert was altogether enjoyable and deserved the kind words spoken of it at the close The young ladies have drilled faithfully for the event and have the satisfaction of knowing that they made a success of their annual appearance on the concert stage

MIDDAY ROBBERY IN THE NORTH END

A daring mid day robbery occurred just before noon yesterday at the residence of Miss Pritchard 1319 North Nevada avenue The robbery was probably the most daring that was ever committed in this city

The thief entered the residence through the front door and walked upstairs He entered several rooms and took all the watches and jewels that he could find With these in his pockets he opened one of the front windows upstairs and stepped out onto the porch From the porch he jumped to the ground and started to run Miss Pritchard saw him running but he was out of sight before any one could be started after him

The boldness of the robber was something remarkable Miss Pritchard conducts a boarding house at this number and the house was well filled with guests at the time Entering at the noon hour the burglar ran the risk of meeting several persons but luck was with him The watches and jewels which he secured are valued at several hundred dollars

FROEBEL SOCIETY HAD BIG CROWD

Program Meeting for April Was Held Yesterday.

PAPER BY PROF. PARSONS

Interest Is Strong in the Work of the Society—Association Now Numbers Fifty

The April program meeting of the Froebel association was held yesterday at the residence of Mrs Asa T Jones ... North Cascade avenue

The program arranged was as follows

Piano Solo ... Miss Oma Fields
Vocal Solo ... Mrs George Crampton
Lecture 'Self Reliance vs Helplessness ... Prof E S Parsons

Miss Smith president of the association presided The program was carried out with a single exception Mrs Crampton was unable to be present

As ever Miss Fields playing of a Spring Song gave much pleasure

Professor Parsons able paper held the closest attention from the audience He began his lecture by quoting from Herbert Spencer

Government of children should advance through the three stages of the absolute monarchy the constitutional monarchy and democracy

The first suggestion given was true self reliance must be grounded upon the habit of law and authority Second the period must be a long one before the control passes entirely into the hands of a child The point was made that a child should be kept a child as long as possible

Granting these two principles the education in home and school ought to be a process of training by which the child passes from helplessness to self reliance As to some avenues of such an education

First home training second, amusements (dangers of elaborate toys alluded to) third teaching dangers of coddling theory and dangers of the tutor The bearing of responsibility was recommended such as sending of errands the setting of small duties etc calculated to foster self decision

Professor Parsons advocated the increase of liberty with age but always grounded on law and authority and chiefest of all upon love—love in the strongest, best sense of the word The dangers of an ill advised love which tends towards weakening instead of strengthening was dwelt upon most earnestly; and in conclusion the great point was made that the essential was a new sense of the sacredness of a child's personality

The paper provoked a spirited discussion in which a large number participated The interchange of methods and beliefs cannot but prove beneficial to the mothers and kindergartners who are following the work of the association so closely As the discussion merged into a general conversation, Mrs E S Parsons presided at the punch bowl, from which excellent fruit punch was dispensed, together with tea wafers.

The association now numbers 50 and is in a flourishing condition New members added yesterday were Mrs. L S Parsons, Mrs Emma McCord Weaver Mrs Amy C Weld Mrs A L Littlefield Mrs H C Babcock Mrs E A Sawyer Dr Josephine Peavey Mrs A U Peavey Mrs J. C Ashton Mrs Lizzie S Hutchison, Miss Edith C Banfield Mrs R E Lewis, Mrs B T Shepherd

STRIKE IN THE BURNS

Lessee Fitch Has Made a Good Find on Acacia Property—Returns From Little Pack Shipment—Fenton Is Preparing to Ship.

Special to the Gazette

Cripple Creek April 17—C A Fitch, operating the Burns of the Acacia company on Bull hill under lease has made one of the best strikes that has been reported from this section in some time past The find was made in the 350 foot level where considerable development work has been done during the past few weeks At the intersection of the old Burns vein with the basalt dike and alongside this dike there has been uncovered 3½ feet of very pretty fluorine showing plenty of sylvanite and free gold The find is in a northerly direction from the point where ore was mined from the Burns vein Lessee Fitch has two shifts at work raising on the shoot and now has quite a little ore ready for shipment This ore has been sacked in gunny sacks to keep it free from the basalt Assays taken from the mineral would indicate that it will return at east $660 to the ton Mr Fitch states that there is 350 feet of stoping ground above him that has never been touched

Anderson & Co leasing on the Little Puck on Squaw mountain received smelter returns this morning from a shipment sent out from the lease on Tuesday The shipment consisted of 44 tons and the screenings ran better than $90 to the ton while the coarse rock returned $42 A quantity of high grade ore amounting to about 1 200 pounds and which will run from $1 to $1 50 per pound was not included in the shipment Another shipment will be sent out next week and at that time it is thought that sufficient of the rich stuff will be on hand to justify a shipment

Owenby & McFarland have applied for an extension of their lease from the Pharmacist company If the application is granted the lessees will in all probability immediately commence the work of sinking a large compartment shaft down to a depth of 800 feet The lessees are doing a large amount of development work on Bull hill and are now operating three contiguous leases They have the north 400 feet of the Burns of the Acacia company, the north 553 feet of the Pharmacist and have just secured a lease from the Isabella company on a small fraction of the Emma No 2 that lies in a triangle made by the Burns and Pharmacist

From indications at the Ben Hur property on Gold hill it would appear that this company will soon be sending out regular shipments. Temporary ore bins have been constructed and all the rock that is broken in the vein in the 600-foot level is being screened and the screenings saved The samples taken of the screenings indicate an average of one ounce to the ton A trial shipment consisting of a carload lot will be sent to the sampler some time next week This will be a test shipment and the management expects it to run better than pay At the 600-foot level drifting is in progress both north and south on the vein The ore streak varies in width and the values are irregular The vein is stated to be the Midget vein and the fact that irregular values are encountered indicates the nearness of an ore shoot The management confidently expects to strike an ore shoot with al most any shot now

Truitt & Schwanbeck operating the north end of the Golden Wedge claim of the Mary Jane company on Raven hill are stoping ore in the 100 foot level in the southern extension of what is believed to be the old Doctor vein Two shipments have been made from the shaft and both ran better than one ounce to the ton The present lessees have continued the work of drifting on the shoot and north of the shaft they are breaking considerable ore that gives assays of from $70 to $90 to the ton In the drift south of the shaft a cross vein has made a junction with the main vein and at this point assays of better than one ounce are obtained Sinking is still in progress in the shaft and a depth of 78 feet below the 100-foot level has been attained It is the intention to sink to the 215 foot point and cut a station The lessees are working two shifts and are making good progress

SUCCESS OF CALERA.

E. E. Quentin, Secretary of the Company, Returns From the Sonora District and Reports on Situation.

Secretary E E Quentin of the Calera Gold Mining company has recently returned to Denver from an extended visit t the properties of the Calera company Sonora He brought back with him some valuable data about the first run of the new mill which the company has just issued in the form of a report to the stockholders He was present at the mine during the completion of the new plant the installation of the elevator for the handling of the tailings and a run of the mill which lasted for 10 days and brought back with him the gold bullion which was produced

The mill ran almost without interruption night and day and during the run treated an average of 10 tons a day producing 18½ ounces of gold worth $1,50 per ounce and also about five tons of rich concentrates not yet marketed The total receipts were about $ 366 and the expense for the period was about an even $1 000 Before leaving the property Mr Quentin determined that the mill was in good running order and it has been operating steadily since he returned to Denver

The erection of this mill and its successful inauguration marks an important step for this company which has excellent prospects The mill was carried into the district from the coast with much embarrassment and delay but it has been most carefully erected and the profitable run already made has been welcome news to the stockholders

President Bogy announced yesterday his intention of adding another claim to the acreage of the properties free of cost to the company or the stockholders This is the Colorado claim which is a portion of his private holdings It consists of 60 acres about half a mile from the original group Mr Bogy s motive is the desire to make an even greater success of the Calera than has been anticipated.

Mr Bogy has made an additional gift to the company in the purchase of 5 000 shares of treasury stock at $1 a share notwithstanding the stock is selling below 20 cents This is one of the most extraordinary actions of any president of a mining company on record and shows Mr Bogy s confidence in the property The company will now have $14 000 for the development of the new ground which has been found to be honeycombed with rich veins The company also has 95 000 shares of stock remaining in the treasury

MILL FOR CANADIAN KING

Local Parties Heavily Interested in Erection of a Mill on Good Property in British Columbia Ore District.

Arrangements are being made to erect a mill on the property of the Canadian King Consolidated Gold Mining company s property in the Kootenay district of British Columbia three miles from Erie The company has made one shipment which ran $40 per ton in gold and there is enough mill dirt in sight to warrant the immediate erection of a 50-ton plant A tunnel has been run into the hill and an upraise made on the vein exposing the ore At a point 200 feet above the level it is expected that the smelting ore will be encountered of the same grade which is being obtained in the Arlington mine adjoining

Word was received in this city yesterday that this mine was producing a large amount of ore both mill and smelting grades The four 100 ton bins are overflowing and 16 horses are constantly employed hauling the ore to the railway at Erie In addition to this the company is operating its mill and paying a quarterly dividend of $10 000 the initial one having been distributed last month Their mill has been in operation for nine months and they have vast quantities of mill dirt in sight They also have 16 feet of smelting ore in the same vein in which the Canadian King company is upraising, only 75 feet from the line between the two properties

The Canadian King company is composed of local and eastern capitalists, having on its board of directors such well known and successful mining men as F M Woods J M Allen S J Mattocks and others Operations are prevented at the present time by the snows but Mr Allen will leave for the district next month to see to the resumption of work in the upraise, and to the beginning of work on the mill It is expected that the latter will cost about $30,000

The capitalization of the company is $150,000 divided into 1,500 000 shares of 10 cents each The low par value is to escape the heavier national and state taxation imposed upon companies whose shares have a par value of $1 The company expects to be on a dividend-paying basis a few months after the mill is running The smelting ore can be marketed as soon as it is reached in the upraise while there are large amounts of free milling ore immediately available

Mining Notes About Town

LEASE ON GOLD DOLLAR CONSOLIDATED SOLD.

A deal was closed Wednesday for the Thompson and Roberts lease covering blocks nine and 10 of the Gold Dollar Consolidated company, on the east slope of Beacon hill The purchasers were McMahan and associates and it is understood that a very good price was paid although it is not made public The former lessees had just opened a very good cross vein at a depth of 90 feet from the surface and Mr McMahan is very much pleased with its appearance He will at once install an electric hoist and other additional equipment for the property and start active development at the depth of 90 feet, as well as in other portions of the mine. This is only one of the leases which are showing up well on this company's property, and the company itself is meeting with considerable success as its development work proceeds

GOOD SHIPMENT FROM THE MARY M'KINNEY.

A shipment has just been marketed from a new strike, mode by O'Connor and Duffy, leasing on the north end of the Mary McKinney mine on Guyot hill The ore is coming from a depth of 300 feet, and is averaging fully $200 in gold to the ton The vein is believed to be an extension of that from which the company has succeeded in producing so much ore. The pay streak at the present time is narrow but the values are exceedingly high, allowing the ore to be broken to the width of the drift and shipped with very little sorting so as to average between $175 and $200 per ton

SAND BURR COMPANY RUNNING LONG TUNNEL.

One of the most active of the developments in the district is being carried on by the Sand Burr Gold Mining company, whose tunnel into Bull hill, five miles north of Gillett has just reached a point 850 feet distant from the portal It is estimated that about 900 feet more work will need to be accomplished before the large dike, opened at the surface will be encountered At a depth of 20 feet this dike yielded assays of $19 in gold to the ton and it is expected that much better values will be attained in the tunnel, which will cut the dike at the depth of about 1 000 feet. The work is being steadily pushed forward with two shifts daily, and electric drills are being used in breaking the rock The company was organized in Kansas City, and is composed almost exclusively of eastern investors who have much confidence in the result of the development.

MAID OF ORLEANS TO GO TO 500 FOOT POINT.

The operators of the Maid of Orleans property on Beacon hill have put their shaft to a depth of 300 feet, but no stop is to be made at this point, the destination of the working being the 500-foot point. The property is well located, and it is believed that by running out levels from the present depth the northern extensions of the rich El Paso shoots could be opened but inasmuch as in the Columbia claim, to the south of them, has not found the shoots very firmly in place at a corresponding depth it is deemed wiser to attempt no lateral work until a substantial depth is gained A considerable amount of development work is progressing in this section of the camp.

TO RESUME OPERATIONS OF THE LONDONDERRY.

Work is to be resumed at once on the Londonderry property on Bull hill, adjoining the property of the Consolidated Mines company. The mine was in excellent condition at the time when

THE COLORADO SPRINGS MINING STOCK EXCHANGE

Colorado Springs, April 17.—For the most part the mining stock market was steady today, although there were one or two declines recorded. The stocks which have been attracting the most attention during the past few days were not traded in or else they were very inactive. This is taken by many of the brokers to mean that about all of the collateral stock has been shaken out and that the market has about reached bottom. Under extremely heavy trading Doctor Jack Pot recovered slightly, closing at 25¼, and Elkton sold to the amount of 1,000 shares at 71½. Findley fell off to 9⅜, and a small lot of Golden Cycle sold at 60, but Vindicator was quiet and recovered to 98. Isabella was a trader to the extent of 4,000 shares, and was fractionally lower at 25¼. Calera sold at 19¼, and Sunset-Eclipse was slightly stronger at 7, 1,400 shares selling at that price. C. K. & N. fell off fractionally to 5⅜. The trading on the two calls was more general than it was yesterday, but owing to the fact that the stocks most popular, or otherwise, were so quiet today, the bulk of the trading for the day fell somewhat below that of yesterday, and the tone was thereby much improved. The general feeling is now one more of hesitation than strength, but the panicky feeling which was noticed at the first of the week seems effectually to have subsided. Portland was quoted at $1.72½@1.85.

EASTERN MARKETS

New York Stock Market.

By Associated Press

New York, April 17.—Southern Railway fell comparatively into the background today, taking a place well down in the list of active stocks. The stock was under pressure of realizing all day although it made some recovery after the official statement late in the day of the absolute control exercised over Louisville and Nashville by J. P. Morgan. The somewhat equivocal tone in which the information has been given to the public in regard to the Louisville dispute and the emphatic disclaimers by the Southern Railway officials of any interest on the part of that road in the settlement had left room for all sorts of rumors of possible further complications which it was thought desirable, apparently to check. Louisville and Nashville stock also rallied strongly to 3⅜ over last night after the statement appeared. It was regarded as a striking demonstration of the secure hold of the speculative situation which has been obtained by the group of western millionaires now the leaders of the market that they should have been able to keep up the show of strength in the market in face of reactionary tendencies in Southern Railway and a number of other unfavorable factors. As a matter of fact extreme animation and a broadening show of strength were the features of the market, bearing every resemblance to previous great bull markets. The irregularity due to active profit-taking going on side by side with new buying was also in evidence, marking the diversion of speculative profits from one group of stocks into another. The coalers all suffered from profit-taking towards the last and the leadership of the market was shifted to Atchison, which rose suddenly to 84, followed by Colorado Fuel and Louisville. The explanation of the buying of Atchison was not forthcoming but the stock has not shared in the recent advances among the grangers and southwesterns which were all somewhat affected by realizing today. Evidences of recuperation in the local money market were a conserving influence on the speculation. The movement of currency from the interior is in favor of New York and the steadiness of the sterling market shows that provision for American subcriptions to the British consol issue does not threaten immediate further gold exports. The market closed active and irregular. Bonds were quite active and irregular.

London Market.

By Associated Press.

New York, April 17.—The Commercial Advertiser's London financial cablegram.

Stock market was greatly reduced today by a reported hitch in the peace negotiations. Interest centers in the new consol issue. It is understood that the issue has been applied for 20 times over. American stocks were brisk and cheerful.

Chicago Grain and Provisions.

By Associated Press.

Chicago, April 17.—Grain speculators who innocently believed in the mythical stories retailed yesterday about drenching rains in the suffering wheat country found out today that they had been caught napping. The result was one of the most excited bull markets the pits have seen since the recent upturn. Wheat led in the activity, making an early jump of almost 2 cents. Heavy profit taking brought recessions in all grains, but the bullish sentiment prevailed and May wheat closed 1¼c higher, May corn ⅝c higher and May oats ½c up. Provisions closed 2½c to 15c advanced.

The leading futures ranged as follows.

WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENCE

Delegate Rodey Interests the Paragraphers—Walsh's Real Estate Holdings.

(Special Correspondence.)

Washington, D. C., April 18.—Delegate Rodey of New Mexico is a fertile source of information for the Washington newspaper paragraphers. He figures almost daily in the "Capital Chat" of one or the other of the city papers. Mr. Rodey never overlooks the main object of his being in congress, which is to secure the admission to statehood of the territory of New Mexico. A few days ago Mr. Rodey paraphrased for the edification of one of the Washington newspapers Dickens' anecdote of the woman who was interested in Barriaboolagha.

"You remember how that estimable lady neglected her own family for the natives of Barriaboolagha," said Mr. Rodey. "Our territory has been paying government freight for 50 years. We never squealed about paying all the duties and internal revenues required by the general law. We have not asked for 20 per cent reciprocity or for 50 per cent. reciprocity. Our soldiers spilled their blood as freely as those from any state for Cuba. Yet Cubans are given a free republic and the government is going to allow them tariff concessions. But the government has kept us out of the union lo, these many years. Now, isn't that like Barriaboolagha?" inquired Mr. Rodey, plaintively.

However, the delegate is growing somewhat cheerful because Speaker Henderson has promised a day to the omnibus statehood bill.

Young men are not flocking to the bureau of forestry for the purpose of becoming trained foresters, and no wonder. Here are a few quotations from the brief issued by the bureau for the information of students: "The only position in this bureau open to those whose training in forestry is incomplete, or has not yet begun, is that of student assistant. * * It must be clearly understood that work as a student assistant does not constitute in itself a stepping stone to higher positions in the bureau of forestry, but forms a part only of the training useful in fitting a man for the profession of forestry. * * The field work required of student assistants is severe and monotonous and often entails hardship. They usually live in camp and are required to keep lumbermen's hours. Cheerful obedience to orders is required. No student is retained who shows a desire to shirk work. He must be prepared to combine severe mental work with severe bodily labor under conditions which make each one peculiarly trying. Those appointed to the position of student assistant in the bureau must realize fully that they are not attending a summer school. The head of the party is willing, in so far as it does not interfere with his own duty, to explain forestry matters to the men under his charge, but he has no time to deliver lectures or to give formal instruction of any kind." Now, when you remember that the student assistant must pay his own way to the field of his labors and that his salary is to consist of lumbermen's grub and $25 per month, you will agree with me that there is not likely to be any great rush for places.

Thomas F. Walsh, the millionaire Colorado mine owner, is at the present time expending upwards of a million dollars in Washington real estate. In addition to his home, now building on Massachusetts avenue, which when completed will be one of the finest residences in Washington he is preparing to put up a modern business block and office building on the site recently occupied by the Foundry Methodist church, and for which he paid $200,000. Notwithstanding his great wealth, Mr. Walsh is one of the most democratic men in Washington. I saw him riding down town this morning in a street car, chatting confidentially to a man in working clothes, who evidently was employed in the work connected with Mr. Walsh's building operations. I noticed as Mr. Walsh left the car that he was on familiar terms with the conductor and spoke a few words pleasantly with him about some matter they seemed to have in common. Mr. Walsh says he finds his greatest enjoyment in being invited to some of the informal gatherings of Washington newspaper correspondents where the entertainment consists of a modest menu of refreshments but plenty of good stories, bright sayings and sparkling repartee. At these gatherings Mr. Walsh makes no ostentatious display of wealth, but simply holds up his end the same as the other boys.

The Indian office is pointing with much satisfaction as tending to refute charges recently made that the pupils in its schools are not carefully attended in matters of health to a report which came today from the school at Albuquerque, N. M. At this school there are 300 pupils, and of these 137 were recently attacked by diphtheria. Of this large number of cases there was but one death in the school and two of the children who had recovered and were sent home and suffered a relapse through carelessness. The Indian office is of the opinion that no such record can be shown in a school of white children.

Western people who have become acquainted with Secretary Long on his occasional visits to Colorado Springs and other western cities and know his kindness of heart will not be surprised at a story told of his habits by an officer connected with the navy department. He makes it a rule to give to the needy the same amount each year that he spends for the support of himself and family, and while his charity is not of the ostentatious kind, he is one of the most philanthropic men at the national capital. It is the rule of Mr. Long to leave his office at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and for a long time past he has found at his outer door a little newsboy ready with a paper for the man whom the boy terms "The gentleman with the nice face." The other day the boy did not have the paper the secretary wanted and a friend offered Mr. Long a paper which he bought. The secretary took it. "Wait a minute," said Mr. Long to his friend. He handed the boy several pennies. "He would have been disappointed if he had missed the sale," said Mr. Long as he walked away with his friend.

Senator Stephen B. Elkins, whom everyone around here calls Steve Elkins, is the best preserved man of his age on the floor of either house. He is over 60, but looks under 40. Senator Elkins got the basis of his young looks by living for many years in the west. The senator says there are other reasons. A few days ago a friend, remarking on his splendid appearance, said: "How in the world do you do it? One might think that the life of a senator would be arduous enough to be wearing, but, bless you, you seem to thrive under it." "It's very easy, once you know how," and as he answered Mr. Elkins smiled one of those smiles for which he is nearly as famous as he is for his healthfulness. "There's only one lesson to learn—let the other fellow do all the worrying."

President Roosevelt recently performed one of the functions of his office which gave him unalloyed pleasure. He reviewed the fire department of the District of Columbia and derived the keenest enjoyment possible in seeing the men, horses and machines that constitute this branch of the district service. The president said that the horses were the best groomed and finest lot of animals he had ever seen. Whatever may be the president's judgment in regard to men, it can be said without dispute that it is almost infallible when it comes to handling horses.

The maximum temperature of the month was 63.5 degrees, and occurred on the 9th. The minimum temperature, 6 degrees, on the 30th. The total precipitation was forty hundredths of an inch, and fell in six days, excluding those in which the fall was less than one one-hundredth of an inch. The number of clear days was 9; of partly cloudy, 16; of cloudy, 6. The maximum velocity of wind was 60 miles, on the 14th. The maximum of barometric pressure occurred on March 4 and the minimum on March 14, the values being 24.140 and 23.229, respectively.

REMARKS ON PARTICULAR DATES.

March 9—The maximum temperature of the month was occasioned by a chinook wind, as is quite clearly indicated by the recorded wind directions for that date. The day following (March 10) a low barometer developed in S. E. Colorado and remained nearly stationary, save for a slight southward movement, during 24 hours. It was this low area that was responsible for the snow of the 10th and 11th.

March 14—A storm, developed in Utah on the previous day, passed over Colorado and was nearly central at Denver. The barometer was remarkably low over the state, while the forecast official at Denver writes of that station: "With the exception of March 10, 1894, this is the lowest point reached (by the barometer) during March in 30 years."

March 23—A low area remained over the middle plateau for three days, finally moving into Colorado. The snow of the 23d seems to have attended the formation of this disturbance, but was much less striking than the result of its crossing the mountains, on March 25. Professor Shedd writes as follows: "A most peculiar storm. The clouds gathered during the forenoon until by 11:15 the rooms were dark enough for lamps. Snow began to fall and at the same time several claps of thunder were heard. The flakes were large granular pellets, almost like sleet. Later they became less hard but remained granular. About 12:30, during the hardest part of the snowfall, a flash of lightning was seen, followed by a clap of thunder. The distance of the lightning seemed (from the interval between flash and sound) to be about one mile. The snow fell until 3:30 p. m.; wind from northwest; clouds nimbus and very heavy, especially at first; temperature 28 degrees, about." In the last respect there was a sudden change at the beginning of the storm, as the air had been quite warm and the conditions of instability, usual in summer thunder storms doubtless prevailed.

March 28-31—The closing days of the month were characterized by a succession of cyclonic disturbances in the vicinity of the Mexican boundary, which kept a low barometer as a prevalent condition in Colorado. The greatest precipitation occurred on the 28th, between 11 a. m. and 6 p. m., but there was also a considerable fall on the following day. Professor Shedd has the following notes as to the character of the precipitation, under date of March 29: "In the morning about 11 ... snow began to fall heavily. The wind was in the northwest, temperature about 2 degrees. At first the snow was granular and large, forming in pellets. It was ... like sleet. As the storm progressed the large granulations stopped and the flakes became fine but not crystalline. Toward night as the temperature fell the fine snow was mixed with crystals and before long all the flakes were crystalline. The flakes were tabular (i. e., flat), some compact, close and small, some large and branching. The storm was in many respects a typical one, illustrating a great abundance of crystals with its progress."
